Unprecedented Turnout Kicks Off East 185th Street Planning Effort

by John Boksansky

Residents, property and business owners met on Tuesday evening February 24, 2015 at Villa Angela St Joseph's Gymnasium to view data maps and share goals and dreams for planning the future of East 185th Street. The planning effort utilized the Transportation of Livable Communities Initiative (TLCI) funding from the Northeastern Ohio Area-wide Coordinating Agency (NOACA). The planning study is being sponsored by The Cuyahoga County Planning Commission, The City of Euclid, The City of Cleveland, Northeast Shores as well as local businesses and institutions.

Tom Evans, Lead Planner and the staff from URS (AECOM) Corporation facilitated the meeting. Mr. Evans stated, "We had over 120 attendees at the E 185th Street planning study meeting. I know the crowd vastly exceeded everyone's expectations and the dialogue and input generated was amazing. The level of interest tonight is inspiring and energizing to everyone on the team."

Ward 8 Councilman Michael D. Polensek as well as City of Euclid Councilman Kristian Jarosz were also in attendance and participated in the meeting. "We look forward to the future, working together with the citizens to realize a workable plan for the future of the East 185th Street area, "stated Councilman Jarosz.

Bob Triozi, neighborhood resident was pleased with the turn out. Triozi commented, "you know folks came out in numbers, even in this cold North coast evening and dream about a better tomorrow for our community." Frank Barresi, Proprietor of Marin's Men's Wear on East 185th Street stated, "We look forward to the future planning efforts in helping the district to realize its full potential. We are thankful to the community for the great turn out and look forward to working with the consultants, Cuyahoga County Planning Commission, the Cities of Cleveland, Euclid as well as Northeast Shores."

"The TLCI program has been an effective planning event for us before and it has produced a plan of action to assist communities with enhancing the quality of life through the planning of transportationfocused projects that support the goals of NOACA's long-range transportation plan," stated Brian Friedman, Executive Director of Northeast Shores. Friedman further stated that, "The plan will address a number of issues including travel options through complete streets, increasing user safety in the corridor, promoting the reinvestment in underutilized or vacant/abandoned properties, supporting economic development through place-based transportation and land use recommendations, gaining public input at this meeting tonight as well as encouraging collaboration between regional and community partners."

Girl Scouts Appreciate your Support and Sweet Tooth

Brownie Girl Scouts from Troop #71092 kept warm serving customers at their drive-up cookie booth

by Erin Randel

The Girl Scouts in Brownie Troop #71092 and Cadette Troop #71440 appreciate the support shown by the neighborhood at their recent "drive-thru" cookie booths at the LaSalle Theater. Northeast Shores was kind enough to provide the space and promotion to the troops, which together serve more than 35 girls in the Collinwood/Euclid area. Over the two Friday nights, the girls sold more than 350 boxes of cookies for a profit of almost $250 (the troop keeps about 69¢ per box sold).

The girls earned credit towards their individual and troop goals, and got important experience marketing their products, loudly! They practiced teamwork in taking turns for the various jobs at the booth, improved their people skills in serving customers driving every which way, and most important, had lots of fun despite the cold. Both troops are planning camping trips and will be making choices over the coming months on how to spend their earnings on leadership development experiences including field trips, badge programs, and community service projects.

Councilman's Corner - Spring !?

by Michael D. Polensek Has Spring finally Sprung? I hope so. What a winter. Freezing cold, snow and now potholes. On that note, please call (216) 664-2510 or the Mayor's Action Center at (216) 664-2900, to report any hazardous road condition, whether it be your street or in the neighborhood. It goes without saying that I am not too happy with the City's response to road conditions including the dirt and filth that litters both sides of virtually every street in our community, and in fact, the entire City. The City Administration and the Public Works Department needs to understand that street repair and street sweeping MUST be made a priority, once again, as it once was "in the day."

If there is a water leak on your street please call the Division of Water call (216) 664-3060 directly. Streetlights that are out can be turned into (216) 664-3156 and abandoned cars on the street can be turned in directly to the 5th District Commander's office at (216) 623-5505.

Now that Spring is here – I respectfully ask all residents to stand on your front sidewalk and take a look at your property. If your yard is a mess - like most of us at this time of the year – get out there, if you can, weather permitting - and start the clean-up process. I myself am not looking forward to working in my own yard; however, in order to have a community we can be proud of we all need to step up and clean

Some project updates: Resurfacing of Lakeshore Boulevard will begin as soon as the sewer work is completed which should be in the next few weeks. Portions of the Boulevard are now being ground down in anticipation of resurfacing. The Waterloo Streetscape project is almost complete and a final punchlist is being reviewed. We are still in discussions with Cleveland MetroParks with regard to our community's request for Lifeguards/Water safety personnel at Euclid Beach & Villa Angela. With the parks and beach front being more heavily used than ever in the past, we believe this is critical for the safety of our families, especially those with small children. To express your concerns there are petitions floating about in the community or online at https://www.facebook.com/ LIFEGUARDSEUCLIDBEACH or http:// tinyurl.com/kc9rve5.

I am looking forward, as I am sure you are, to a very productive Spring and Summer. There are a number of projects and initiatives we are actively working on. Stay tuned regarding the renovation of the new Veteran's Park (formerly Triangle Park) at East 174th Street and Nottingham Road as well as the proposed construction of a new Oliver Hazard Perry Elementary School (between Schenely and Harland Avenues, off East 185th Street). In addition, we will once again have the Friday Night evening concerts at Euclid Beach Park from June

Books galore at the Euclid Public Library Friends'

After six months of sorting and a frantic day of set-up, the Spring Book Sale, held by the Friends of the Euclid Public Library, will be on April 25th and 26th, with a preview night for members on the 24th. There will be one table of special books with higher prices. Aside from that, hardbound books are 50¢; paperbacks (including large ones) are 25¢. DVDs are $2.00; most other audio-visual media are $1.00 or less. Materials have been collected for half a year, and include both library cancels and donations. The books are roughly sorted by broad library number categories. You might find a book on plumbing, gardening, business, cooking, animal care, child care, or health, all in the 600s (Technology), or something about movies, opera, crafts, or football in the 700s (Arts and Recreation). If history and travel is your thing, wander over to the 900s. Computers are in the 000s (General Works), along with journalism, Bigfoot, and flying saucers. And the 300s contain all the stuff about human society and how it works-from econom-

Can You Believe It's Our 9th Year

by Sherrie Zagorc As the founder and chairperson of the E. 200th Street Stroll, I know why I love and promote this community event throughout Euclid. I've expressed my devotion to our street, community organizations, and our Stroll volunteers for the past 8 years. In our 9th year, I think you have heard enough of my words and I want you to know why others in our community believe in the power of our Stroll. I give a big thank you to some of our Super Strollers and hope that all of our Euclid residents and guests experience this year's Stroll on Saturday, May 30, 2015 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Sarah Gyorki, "My whole family loves the Stroll because it's such a fun day out in the community. We love seeing friends and neighbors, all the free activities, the food and the entertainment. It's such a great way to enjoy the neighborhood!

Don Novak, "I like that volunteers work on the Stoll and that helps the city."

Dana Heil, "Why is the Stroll important? Each year I get to meet new residents as well as long-time residents. Everyone is so friendly and this event has helped me to start relationships that have become important to me both personally and professionally."

The Euclid Symphony Orchestra participates as an organization in the Stroll letting the Euclid community know that Euclid has its own non-profit orchestra. We pass out magnets listing the dates of our performances at Shore Cultural Centre. We also let strollers know that we are always looking for musicians.

Check out our website at www.e200streetstroll.com and our Facebook page for Stroll updates. Do you have questions or want to participate? Call 216-798-7089 or Email e200thstreetstroll@gmail.com

As a nonprofit child care center, Kiddie City Child Care Community's board of directors and staff strive to provide the best education for the children in our Euclid area. We widen our children's world when we take them to Playhouse Square, the Cleveland Botanical Gardens or even the Memphis Kiddie Park. Visits from The Beck Center's Miss Tracy with her guitar and Mr. Hassam with his African drum and storytelling, enrich their lives with music, dancing, and the verbal word. Science, math, social/emotional skills, language - all of these and many more learning opportunities are addressed as we venture out in our rented Willo Transportation mini buses or welcome guests into our classrooms.

The Lakefront Literacy Project is bringing books and a love of learning to Euclid Beach Park this summer by Allison Lukacsy

Imagine clear blue skies, gently lapping waves, sand shifting under your toes. But what's missing? A book! Thanks in part to a grant from Neighborhood Connections, in summer 2015 The Lakefront Literacy Project is bringing literature and a love of learning to Cleveland's Euclid Beach Park's lakefront with a custom-crafted mobile library, part of the renowned "Little Free Library" network.

This free library dreamed up by North Collinwood residents Ali Lukacsy, Emily Martis, and Robert Gatewood and staffed by neighborhood volunteers will appear at the beach during weekends, holidays, and special programmed events and house a rotating collection of books, magazines, and newspapers catering to both children and adults and our English and Russian speaking North Collinwood neighbors. What we need, the bulk of the work for this project is organizing and a lot of volunteer hours, but we still need cold, hard cash to make our vision a reality!

Most of our funds will go to purchase a safe and sturdy book cart and racks for magazines, as well as marketing materials to let people know about our project and the big kickoff. Of course, we also will need to buy books and periodical subscriptions and sustain the library's collection throughout the summer. Above and beyond our $500 goal and we can amp up the awesome (think: free food, giveaways) at our Kickoff Celebration at Euclid Beach Park on May 30, 2015!

For a $1 donation you will receive a "Thank You" shout out on our Facebook page @ www.facebook.com/lakefrontliteracy.

For a $300 donation every perk from the "Literary Lover" level and a 5-course dinner for two, catered by a retired chef. Includes cooking, serving, and clean up. Additional guest for $75, additional 2 guests for $150. Wine/alcohol is not included, but can be arranged for an additional fee. Driving radius up to 1 hour for an additional fee. Does this project sounds great to you?

Would you like to get even more involved above and beyond supporting the campaign? Volunteers, have an hour to spare? Email us at read.euclidbeach@gmail.com and let us know of your interest and availability for staffing the library. The position is fun and easy and yes you can sit down and read a magazine on the job!

Start Your Spring Cleaning With An Adopt-a-Beach Cleanup at Euclid Beach

by Stephen Love As the ice melts away along the shores of Lake Erie, signs of spring are now around us; chirping birds, daffodils, and of course, litter...and lot's of it! After being trapped in the ice for over two months, litter has made its way ashore and it's definitely time for some spring cleaning down on the beach! On Saturday, April 11, 2015 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. help Euclid Beach Adopt-a-Beach Team volunteers clear and catalog hundreds of pieces of plastic trash and other debris from the beach.

All plastic trash collected from this and other monthly Adopt-a-Beach and stream cleanups across Cleveland will contribute to a large-scale sculpture to be located adjacent to the Great Lakes Science Center in Downtown, Cleveland this June in an effort to raise awareness about litter and pollution in Lake Erie. Participate in Saturday's clean-up and your name will be included on the sculpture's plaque as a "contributing artist!"

After this long winter, your help is greatly appreciated! Supplies including trash bags, gloves and pickers will be provided. Meet at the central picnic pavilion at 10:00 a.m. for registration complimentary coffee and snacks generously donated by Collinwood neighborhood merchants. All cleanup participants will receive a coupon from Chili Peppers Mexican Grill (869 East 185th Street) good towards 1/2 off the purchase of a meal item and a drink! Please be sure to thank Chili Peppers Owner Steve Newman. For more information about the cleanup, visit - goo.gl/MqFg4D

The process of improving all of the lakefront parks, and bringing them up to the standards that visitors have come to expect from other Cleveland Metroparks properties, is ongoing. At Euclid Beach, Villa Angela and Wildwood, this process started in 2013 with large-scale clean-up projects. Significant amounts of overgrown brush and debris were removed. Combing the sand on the beach became a daily ritual. Leaky restroom fixtures were repaired and the Park District's Ranger Division began regular cluding bird walks, an exploration hike, a watercolor class, nature-play programs for parents and preschoolers, a volunteer planting session at Wildwood, and of course the immensely popular weekly live music event Euclid Beach LIVE that drew thousands of visitors. The Friday night concert series will return for the 2015 season in an expanded format.

The activities of 2014 were just the beginning. Visitors to Euclid Beach, Villa Angela and Wildwood parks can expect to see upwards of $2.5 million in capital improvements over the next 24 months as part of the ongoing fulfillment of the Park District's Lakefront Master Plan.

The first two most readily noticeable improvements will be the addition of a new pedestrian bridge over Euclid Creek and the construction of a new pier at Euclid Beach.

The 150-foot, ADA accessible pedestrian bridge will improve visitor access from Villa Angela to Wildwood by crossing over Euclid Creek at the existing trail rather than requiring walkers or cyclists to circle up toward the road to get to the current crossing. This $678,000 project is under construction now and should be open by May 31. The project also includes 800-feet of all purpose trail, trail lighting, and beach-front landscaping is also under construction and is scheduled for completion by June 1.

Fuclid Beach Live

Euclid Beach will see the creation of a beautiful new $1.5 million pier that will take visitors out over the water complete with ADA accessibility, decorative lighting and fishing access. Construction of the pier is slated to begin in fall 2015 for a 2016 opening date.

Cleveland Metroparks knows that Euclid Beach, Villa Angela and Wildwood are important recreation destinations, particularly for neighborhood residents. During the Park District's interactions with visitors during the 2014 season, the desire to eventually see lifeguards at Euclid Beach was raised several times. Considering that under state management, ODNR had not staffed the beach with lifeguards in several years, Cleveland Metroparks felt additional safety assessment was mandatory. The Park District began investigating the possibility of guarding Euclid Beach in earnest and discovered that the situation was worse than previously thought.

An analysis of water quality survey data and ongoing research revealed complex conditions at Euclid Beach that make swimming unsafe. These conditions include significant underwater erosion, shifting currents, unpredictable changes in water depth, frequent formation of rip tides and above average occurrences in both quantity and severity of water quality advisory days. However daunting these conditions seem, the Park District does not consider them insurmountable

Further evaluation is planned for this spring, including a wave analysis study. All of the data collected will then be considered and potential solutions will be investigated. Federal permits will be required from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to alter the breakwalls or perform other large scale engineering projects in order to create conditions to make this area safer for swimming. Cleveland Metroparks is working toward a solution that will ultimately allow lifeguards to be stationed at Euclid Beach.

While the Park District works toward that goal, it urges everyone to learn to swim. Free swimming lessons are available, without a city residency requirement, through the City of Cleveland's Collinwood Recreation Center directly across the street from Euclid Beach Park

Entrepreneurial Spirit

The entrepreneurial spirit was alive and well at this year's Invention Convention. Each year, Our Lady of the Lake School challenges its students to get creative and apply their technology skills, with unique inventions that help solve real-life problems. The students come up with remarkable ideas, and judges from the community are impressed by the quality of their presentations. Applied learning is a great way to stretch students' thinking, and engaging with professionals in the field to have their materials critiqued helps students work to a higher level. We're proud of this next generation of innovative thinkers!

Faith-In-Action

Catholic Schools Week back in January was Catholic Schools: Communities of Faith, Knowledge and Service. The students of St. Jerome have been busy gaining knowledge but have also been busy living their faith with two projects of service to others.

One project they have been working on is called the Rice Bowl. In this project, monetary donations are collected to support Catholic Relief Services' programs around the world. It also supports local hunger and poverty alleviation in the diocese in which it is collected. This faith-inaction activity helped us to focus on service to help others.

Another project students worked on was to collect "Pennies for Pasta" a fund to help those with Leukemia and Lymphoma. Each student was given a box to collect spare change or change they may have earned from doing chores. The funds raised will assist in serving all patients, as well as funding innovative research worldwide to find cures, public health and professional education. The classroom with the top donations will receive a pasta lunch from Olive Garden.

With both of these projects, our students are helping people in the communities in which they live. We are proud of their service to others.

the people of St. Jerome Catholic Church when he was installed as sixth pastor at 4 o'clock Mass on Saturday, March 14, 2015. Parishioners, guests, and visiting clergy filled the church for the ceremony. Bishop Roger Gries, OSB, participated as principal celebrant and presider at the Rite of Installation. Bishop Gries genially introduced the new pastor to an enthusiastic ovation from the assembly. Among the visitors attending were Fr. Bill's family and state and local dignitaries. Cleveland Councilman Mike Polensek ceremoniously welcomed Father back to the neighborhood by giving him a Collinwood baseball cap to wear with pride, presenting a Resolution of Congratulations from City Council and offering humorous and entertaining words of appreciation. Fr. Bill, his parents, two brothers and sister lived for many years in North Collinwood, and he is very happy to return to be close to family and friends. Following the liturgical celebration, a Welcoming Reception was held in the school social hall. People lingered for food and fellowship with plenty of time to catch up on the good old days. Fr. Bill is home again, and the entire Collinwood community is thrilled that he is back.

by Gail Greenberg

Joe White is definitely a man on a mission with a group of young people in four classes at Collinwood High School. For the past ten weeks, under the auspices of The Centers for Families and Children and the Cuyahoga County District Board of Health, he has been facilitating the American Lung Association's N-O-T (Not On Tobacco) program at both Collinwood and Glenville High Schools.

Funding for this program comes from the Ohio Department of Health/Federal Government Bureau of Child and Family Health Services' Child and Family Health Services Program. This is the first time that the Cleveland Metropolitan School District (CMSD) has offered this program. Upcoming, on April 14, 2015 Mr. James Cotton of the American Lung Association will visit Collinwood and deliver the keynote address to the student body.

N-O-T is a voluntary smoking cessation program for teens, ages 14-19. Over the course of the program, participants learn to identify reasons for smoking, healthy alternatives to tobacco use, and people who will support them in their efforts to quit or never to start. In addition to stressing healthy lifestyle behaviors, the N-O-T curriculum helps high school students improve life skills

According to the American Lung Association, "studies of 12,000 teens participating in the N-O-T program nationally found that approximately 90 per cent of the teens enrolled in the N-O-T program either quit smoking or cut back.

Because of his community ties and what White describes as "a bag of careers," he has been able to share lessons he has learned about smoking from personal life choices and experiences.

"I'm the one who escaped first level nicotine addiction," noted White. "I can relate to what I preach and they're listening," he said.

Two of Cleveland's highest-rated elementary schools are near you and enrolling for next year.

Collinwood Native takes 2nd Place in the Garage Bike Contest at the Auto Rama.

by George Blade

Custom cars and bikes from all around filled the IX Center the weekend of March 20-22. Collinwood native, George Blade Jr., was one of the many to be honored and allowed to participate in this event. He brought his debut, one of kind, handcrafted bike made of all scrap metal pieces. He was a hit at the show, taking 2nd place in the garage bike contest. He made many contacts and was photographed for a upcoming issue of Thunder Roads magazine. He is also being featured at Ohio Bike Week in Sandusky, which is the Midwest largest bike rally.

He is a self-taught welder who can weld and create just about anything with scrap pieces. What makes this bike unique is that unlike other custom built motorcycles and bikes, he used various scrap pieces such as tractor tires, bbq grill pieces, steel bars and various steel and metal items purchased from home depot and junkyards.

He states" This week was such a great experience. I was welcomed by everyone and I wow the crowd with my custom bike. Even though I placed 2nd, I am just honored to even been part of this event. I am going to get back to work on my next creation so stay tuned!"

Late 2015 he plan to conducts FREE class to young men who want to learn basic welding techniques.

Checking Out the New Lakeshore Rose Center for Seniors

by Elva Brodnick If you've lived in this Collinwood neighborhood long enough, you know the place. The Golden Age Center has been on Lakeshore Blvd for years, a familiar building next to the old Uncle Bill's store, now our Collinwood Recreation Center. Maybe you were even a member at some point, and just haven't been by lately. (Or, it could be you'd never been there at all?)

If you haven't been there lately, you should check it out - there's been some exciting changes, since Fall 2014. As of September 2014, the Golden Age Centers of Greater Cleveland and the Benjamin Rose Institute on Aging joined forces, to form a new non-profit serving seniors, the Rose Centers for Aging Well. The original two groups had been working together for many years, so this was a natural path for both.

So what exactly is the Lakeshore Rose Center? Turns out, they offer a wide range of services for our seniors. And they're definitely worth looking into.

Charlotte Iafeliece and I stopped by the center, in early February, and had a chance to chat with both the new Director, Melissa Gleeson, and social worker, Kathleen Woodson. Go to find out, membership is just $8.00 a year, and gives you access to everything from lunch Mondays thru Thursdays (more on this in a sec!), to Tai Chi, yoga (and other exercise) classes, a computer lab, bingo, movies, knitting groups, trips (such as these coming up in April) to places like the Hard Rock Rocksino, Tri-C Jazz Fest, lunch out at different places around town (plus monthly shopping trips) - and even a variety of card games to join (think pinochle.) Melissa will be a guest speaker, at the next meeting of the E 185th Neighborhood Association, in a few weeks April 14, 2015 at the Lithuanian Hall on E 185th at 6:00 p.m.

It can't be any easier to be part of it all. Lunch (served from 11:30 Monday thru Thursday) is a hot meal that ranges from chicken and pasta dishes to stuffed cabbage and BBQ pork sandwiches. Transportation's even available (they just need a couple of days' notice) and both lunch and transportation are free to seniors over 60 in Cuyahoga County, although there is a suggested donation of $1 for each. (Still a bargain, no?)

So drop by one day - especially now that the weather's finally breaking and see what this new Senior Center is all about. Definitely worth the time!

Free Community Resources Offered: Making Personal Healthcare Choices Known

by Laurie

Henrichsen

Hospice of the Western Re serve - along with other national, state and commu nity organizations - is participating in a national campaign running now through April 16, 2015 National Healthcare Decisions Day, to highlight the importance of making personal healthcare choices known. Free downloadable web resources and community educational events are planned.

Hospice of the Western Reserve has scheduled the following free east side community educational opportunities. Health Care Power of Attorney and Living Will documents will be available and a representative from Daniel P. Seink Co., Ltd., will be available to answer questions and witness the signing of documents. Both sessions are open to the community; no reservations required.

Friday, April 10, 2015 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Cleveland Heights Community Center, 1 Monticello Blvd, Cleveland Hts.

Thursday, April 16, 2015 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Euclid Lakefront Community Center, One Bliss Lane

As a participating organization, Hospice of the Western Reserve is providing information and tools for the public to talk about their wishes with family, friends and healthcare providers, and to execute written advance directives (Healthcare Power of Attorney and Living Will) in accordance with Ohio state laws. The nonprofit agency is offering access to a free guide, "Courage in Conversation," which includes the actual legal forms required by the State of Ohio. A simple, easy-to-understand worksheet is included in the guide to assist with evaluating choices. The booklet and forms are available at www.HospiceWR.org/conver-

Gwen Ellis, a retired Cleveland-area social worker, is the primary caregiver for her husband, Lewis, who developed dementia very early - at age 50. "I wish we had completed our advance directives much earlier," she admitted. "I spend a lot of my time now talking to people and encouraging them not to make the same mistake Lewis and I did," she said. "If your wishes are not known, or you are hospitalized and not able to make choices, someone needs to make choices for you. There are plenty of workshops and classes available so you can be prepared."

"Having a plan in place that accurately communicates our healthcare choices spares loved ones from the agony of guessing what we would want, and it also provides us with a voice in our own care at the end of life," said LaBena Fleming, Hospice of the Western Reserve. "It's one of the greatest gifts we can provide not only to our families but to ourselves." For more information, visit www.HospiceWR.org/ conversation

Fashion Week Cleveland 2015

by Darece Daniels

Cleveland has a rich history not only in Rock & Roll, but also in fashion. Fashion Week Cleveland presented a true reflection of that history on March 21, 2015 at The Hyatt Regency in the atrium of the historic arcade. Alexis Nunn, a Collinwood resident and participant of the iMedia Mentoring program, was in attendance at the black tie event as an intern-in-training of Volume Magazine, a Cleveland based digital lifestyle magazine. Darvio Morrow, editor-in-chief of Volume Magazine and a Collinwood resident, was also in attendance

Fashion Week Cleveland in its 11th year, featured Dayton's own Althea Harper, runner up from the show's 6th season, designer Indashio, from the show, Catwalks Across America, which was seen on Style Network along with 16 year old designer Victoria Cohen, designers DeAndre Crenshaw, Johnathan Dembowski, Christian and Christopher Lett, Cora Mercer, Chikondi Butao Mirlemba, and Bridgette Schriner.

The glitz and glam was there, not only from the designers and models, but from everyone in attendance, making this a highly successful event. The Fashion Week Cleveland had a slew of volunteers and staff, in heels and bow ties making this a memorable event. Fashion Week Cleveland is truly making its presence known in the fashion world

According to the Founder & CEO of Cleveland's Fashion Week, Donald C. Shingler, "Cleveland is known for its 3M's-music, medicine, and museums. Cleveland's fashion week is a reflection of the city from which it comes. Something that is uniquely Cleveland, reserved, educational, and intelligent". In 2002, Donald Shingler created Cleveland Fashion Show, and by 2005, that fashion show grew to host various fashion related events. Fast forward to 2015, Fashion Week Cleveland is now known as " the educational fashion week".

The iMedia Mentoring program is a youth media, arts, technology program, where the participants are taught and mentored by industry professionals. Announcing Collinwood 2015 What role can the arts play in increasing

by Julia DiBaggio

So what is Colllinwood 2015? Through this exciting new program, we'll be giving artist and health practitioner teams an opportunity to propose creative solutions to improving health outcomes in the neighborhood. The Collinwood 2015 initiative engages stakeholders in thinking about how the arts can improve community health. As a whole, these grassroots projects will help bend the upward trajectories of obesity and other chronic diseases in the neighborhood, while also activating neighborhood green spaces and getting stakeholders collectively engaged in what otherwise might seem to be an intractable problem.

Throughout 2015, we'll be awarding $100,000 of funding to support projects in the North Shore Collinwood neighborhood ($50,000 in the current program cycle). We're asking artist teams to propose creative solutions to improve health outcomes in the neighborhood. How can artists improve neighborhood health? For example:

awareness of Medicare, Medicaid and other health insurance resources? How can the arts facilitate access to preventative care?

How can artists encourage stronger and earlier prenatal care?

Can the arts reduce domestic violence? How can artists encourage healthy eating practices?

Can the arts create opportunities for neighborhood stakeholders to join together in exercise?

Collinwood 2015 projects are available to artists of all disciplines (craft, dance, design, literary, media, music, theatre and visual) and all skill levels. Competitive applications will have a strong arts focus, but also be well-based in health practices. Therefore, we encourage artists to collaborate with health practitioners in their program concept and implementation.
