Forest City Volunteers Dedicate Time to Helping Hospice of the Western Reserve

by Laurie Henrichsen

For several years, employees from Forest City have generously donated many hours of their time and talent to complete a variety of volunteer projects at Hospice of the Western Reserve. The volunteer projects are part of the organization's annual Community Day and provide a way to give back to the local community.

This year, on May 18, a hardworking group of approximately 100 Forest City employees split up into two groups and arrived bright and early to get started. One group painted the annex of a storage building at the Hospice of the Western Reserve's headquarters site while a second group of 67 mulched beds and landscaped the entire 22 acres on the grounds of David Simpson Hospice house and the adjacent lakefront property.

They planted a garden and installed donated perennials and a birdbath on the northwestern end of the property. Hospice of the Western Reserve installed a plaque in the garden honoring the Forest City volunteers and the many other volunteer groups from the community who have contributed hundreds of hours of volunteer service through the years.

Volunteers mulched beds and helped beautify 22 acres of lakefront property

Several Forest City volunteers worked inside David Simpson Hospice House, stripping wallpaper from the playroom and painting an office.

"Hospice of the Western Reserve is grateful for the generous volunteer support Forest City and other organizations provide," said Steve DiMare, Facilities Management Team Leader. "Our resources are directed towards patient care, so we would not otherwise be able to provide the beautiful parklike setting we maintain for the Collinwood neighborhood without their time and talent. Their contributions are a true gift, not only for the families we care for, but for the entire community."

"Giving back to our local communities is an essential part of who we are as a company," said David LaRue, Forest City's president and CEO. "For the past decade and a half, we've hosted the daylong celebration of service dedicated to helping our neighbors."

Holy Redeemer celebrates 94th Feast of St. Anthony June 9th & 10th

Holy Redeemer's Feast of St. Anthony procession route.

by FWilliam McCulloch

Since Holy Redeemer Church's founding in 1924, the honoring of St. Anthony has played an integral part in the life of the parish. The annual Tredicina, or 13 days of prayer begins Friday June 1st and concludes Wednesday June 13th coinciding with the of St. Anthony's death in Padua Italy in 1231.

For each Mass the church will host a different visiting clergy member who will expound on St. Anthony and the virtues and relevance of his message today. Patron Saint of the poor and oppressed, St. Anthony is also well-known as that of lost articles. Father Marty Polito, a Euclid native and Pastor of Holy Redeemer since 1996, adds that it is not just for lost things but for people who may have lost either faith, hope, and/or love. That this is an occasion for prayer for things needed to be found in one's life and a time of self-renewal.

The feast celebration itself will start Saturday June 9th at 5:00 pm and is held in the school gymnasium and outside in the courtyard between the church till 8:00 pm. There will be concession stands featuring Italian food favorites, musical entertainment along with games of chance, various raffles and donated gift baskets.

Sunday the celebration continues following Mass celebrated by Bishop Anthony Pilla with a procession of the statue of St. Anthony through the streets of the neighborhood. The procession will include the Italian Band of Cleveland and Lolly the Trolley to shuttle those who may have trouble walking the full route. Afterwards the Festival will reopen at 12:00, when also a Morra Tournament will be held, and continue until 6:00 pm. Hope to see you there.

Holy Redeemer Church is at 15712 Kipling Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio 44110, Phone (216) 531-3313

Farewell to Fanny's

by William McCulloch

If you haven't been down East 152nd Street lately, you might not know that they've torn down Fanny's Restaurant. Shuttered for the last 11 years, it closed due to a huge back tax debt. It was this debt and the lien on the property that also complicated any purchase from potential buyers.

Fanny's was started by Frances "Fanny" Boldin and her daughter Frances "Fanny" Kollar in 1947 in a small storefront at 406 East 152nd Street, which would later become Fontina's Restaurant. Frances Boldin had prior ran the King Cole Restaurant on Lake Shore. In 1961 they moved to the southeast corner of East 152nd Street and Arcade Avenue into what was once an old farm house they would expand with an enclosed front porch and an L-shaped wrap-around addition. It would become a local landmark serving hearty comfort food fare to a cross-section of the city for three generations. It closed in April of 2007 after 60 years.

Councilman’s Corner

by Michael D. Polensek

You’ve all heard the old saying, “I’ve got some good news and some bad news.” The good news first. Summer is finally here and the construction of the historic Euclid Beach Pier is going strong at Euclid Beach Park. Work will continue on this long-awaited project the remainder of the year, according to our partners, the Cleveland Metroparks. In addition, the Friday night concert series on the lake will resume once again starting June 1st at 6:00 p.m. and continue to run throughout the summer. Please join us for some incredible music on the lake right here in our own community. More good news. The Cleveland Clinic purchased the former Sodexo Laundry facility at 15300 S. Waterloo Road at East 152nd Street. They have partnered with Evergreen Cooperative to operate the complex which will supply laundry and linen for all Cleveland Clinic hospitals and medical offices. Evergreen and the Clinic have been working with my office and plan to invest substantially in new equipment and ramping up employment and job opportunities. This is exciting news for our community, especially for the historic Collinwood Yard Industrial Park.

Now, the bad news. Early evening on Saturday, May 19, 2018 at around 4:00 p.m., the Northshore Collinwood area and beyond, was hit with a massive rainstorm. In less than 45 minutes, approximately 2.0 plus inches of rain fell. Countless homes, businesses and institutions experienced severe basement flooding. Some of which had never been flooded before. The area of flooding ran from East 200th Street to the lake, and as far west as East 140th Street. The affected area was massive and damage was inflicted on far too many properties.

To add to this misery was the fact that over the last several years, millions of dollars have been spent on storm water-related sewer projects and retention facilities. This included new and rebuilt storm sewers on many streets in the neighborhood. It goes without saying that all of us who were affected by flooded basements know the rainfall was unreal. That’s a fact! However, the real question we are all asking is why was the flooding so widespread and severe? What I witnessed first-hand being out that evening was the following: during the rainstorm, Euclid Creek rose to flood stage, thereby preventing storm water to exit through the outfalls along the creek. In addition, the pump house at Lakeshore Boulevard at the creek, was at capacity! Furthermore, the major outfall at East Park and Dorchester Drives, at the lake, was clogged with storm debris thereby causing a major backup to the entire sewer system west of Lakeshore Boulevard and the Neff Road outfall at the lake was flowing but restricted once again, by storm debris. The most critical component during this whole episode was the fact that the new Lakeshore Boulevard Storm Sewer that was constructed by the Northeast Regional Sewer District (NEORS), along with the Euclid Creek Tunnel Storm Retention facility, which was completed well over one year ago, were not operational. So, when you combine all of these factors with the amount of rainfall, it created the perfect storm for disaster.

NEORS stated in The Plain Dealer on Wednesday, May 23, 2018, “that they could not activate the sewers due to a major problem they have experienced with the new pump house in Bratenahl Village along I-90 because of severe vibrations coming from the pumps themselves when activated.” They believe the problems will be rectified by late July of this year. It is very clear to me that until these major sewers come online, we will continue to run the risk of major basement flooding. I would advise all affected property owners to be very mindful of this fact. For all of our basements are at continued risk until these critical projects are activated and completed.

So what else can be done to help address this problem besides ongoing intense maintenance of the outfalls and system itself? The City of Cleveland’s Water Pollution Control (WPC), the Department of Public Utilities, and my office, have been meeting trying to come up with an action plan. As a result, on Monday, May 14, 2018, City Council passed Ordinance No. 422-18, earmarking approximately $8.8 million to install a new storm sewer along East 185th Street from Pawnee Avenue, south to Marcella Road, then north to Lakeshore Boulevard. This project, which I sponsored, is designed to move storm water out of the neighborhood at a much quicker pace along the entire East 185th Street corridor and beyond. This project should commence in late 2019 and will be tunnel-bored vs. open trench, thereby permitting traffic to move more freely during the construction phase and having less of an impact on the surrounding residential neighborhood.

At the end of the day, millions of dollars are being spent to address basement flooding in the Ward and water quality issues along our lakefront. I am committed to doing everything I can to tackle this horrific problem which has affected so many families and businesses alike. We cannot rebuild our neighborhood and move forward with severe and ongoing basement flooding. We collectively have to come up with a plan that makes sense and addresses the problem.

I don’t have to tell anyone that the grass is growing. If there is a property on your street, whether occupied or unoccupied, where the grass is uncut and taller than eight (8) inches, please call the Mayor’s Action Center at 664-2900 to report the address.

I look forward to seeing you at our summer events which are all listed on the Scoop on Summer guide which is being distributed in the neighborhood and available at local establishments.

As always, I can be reached at 216-664-

Collinwood Author Annie Hogsett’s Second Mystery Novel, Murder to the Metal, to Hit Bookshelves June 5th

Murder to the Metal takes place in Cleveland

by Stacey Vaselancy

Cleveland author Annie Hogsett’s second mystery novel, Murder to the Metal, will be released on June 5 by Poisoned Pen Press, an independent mystery book publisher and one of the largest publishers of hardcover mysteries in the world. The book will be available at Cleveland bookstores as well as online at Amazon, Barnes & Noble, and Poisoned Pen Press’s website.

Murder to the Metal is the sequel to Too Lucky to Live, the first in Hogsett’s ‘Somebody’s Bound to Wind Up Dead’ mystery series, which debuted last May to a host of positive reviews and accolades among the publishing community.

My Grandma’s Purse

by Umeikia Whiting

There are so many special and beautiful woman that live in Cleveland. This specific woman I am speaking of is our grandma’s these women have paved the way for many generations to come, but only if you take time to hear their stories and understand the time and era they came from then you will also agree that our grandma’s have paved away for us women. One in particular was my grandma Beatrice Hubbard an awesome woman of God. My grandma carried this purse that had everything thing you will need to survive even if you wasn’t lost or deserted. She had lunch meat that even stayed cold and the fruit was always so sweet.

On Sunday mornings at church my grandma would have safety pens and clear finger nail polish that would stop the runs in the church lady’s stocking. It was so unbelievable and amazing that she always had what everyone needed if you crossed her path. My grandma’s purse showed me a very valuable lesson. It’s wasn’t the physical part of her carrying every thing around or how heavy her purse was. The lesson I seen was the fact that she was helping people everywhere she went. My grandma died 2016. I was so sad because nothing in her purse helped her. But the spirit of her purse showed me that now it was my turn to carry this purse. So I now carry her purse inside my purse to help people wherever I go. But now I need the communities help to find their grandma’s purses and let’s come together to help everybody.

Renwood Luxury Cigar Lounge - A Classy Addition To The Neighborhood

Mr. Corn Durden (The Foreman) and Mr. Chris Irby (The Bean Counter) have brought a slice of cigar heaven to Euclid. Be sure to stop in see the amazing remodel job they have done to the storefront located at 524 E. 200th St., right across the street from the school. From the oak tables to the comfortable leather chairs everything is first-class.

A wide range of cigars are available in their walk-in humidor. Special events are planned every week so be sure to check out their Facebook and Twitter to find out what is next.

They are open Monday through Thursday 1 to 9 PM, Friday and Saturday 1 to 11 PM and Sunday 1 to 7 PM. The hours may be extended for sporting events.

The Renwood luxury cigar lounge does not have a liquor license but you are encouraged to BYOB. It is a real pleasure to welcome this establishment to the neighborhood.

Murder to the Metal also takes place in Cleveland and picks up on protagonists’ Allie Harper—intrepid part-time librarian—and Tom Bennington III—blind, PhD—who, thanks to Tom’s accidental $550 million MondoMegaJackpot lottery win, are now living in a rented lakeside mansion in Bratenahl with a skylit shower and astronomically high-thread-count sheets and have taken on the first case for their T&A Detective Agency. The duo enlists return characters to help them follow a lethal trail of escalating crimes ranging from scrapping to pushing opioids to multiple murders.

Cleveland readers will recognize street names, like Ridpath and Groveside, Cleveland eateries, like Slyman’s and Beach Club Bistro, and landmarks, like the Waterloo Arts District, the ghostly former observatory on Taylor Road, the Memorial Nottingham Branch of the Cleveland Public Library, and of course the Marriott at Key Center.

Clevelanders will also recognize various other landmarks like the Rock Hall, Lake Shore Boulevard and Playhouse Square. Allie is a part-time librarian at the Cleveland Public Library’s Memorial-Nottingham branch while Tom teaches English literature at Case Western Reserve University.

Hogsett was born in West Virginia and attended West Virginia University where she received both her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in English literature. She and her husband, Bill, moved to Cleveland in 1972 and reside on the shores of Lake Erie, a constant source of inspiration. Prior to embarking on her writing career, Hogsett had a career as an advertising copywriter in which she honed her writing skills and her dream of becoming a published novelist.

Moving On

by Mary Brinovec

Collinwood Neighborhood Catholic Ministries (CNCM) is relocating the site of our ministries from 15706 St. Clair Ave. to the Five Pointe Community Center on E. 152nd St on the 1st of August, 2018.

This new plan is due to our strong desire to remain in Collinwood for as long as possible and continue to respond with a hopeful, healing presence and new ministries, to eliminate some of our overhead and to be situated in a space filled with activity for all members of the neighborhood.

The new site offers CNCM office/meeting space plus the use of larger spaces when needed. We will also have better handicapped access and some off-street parking.

Manager of the Center, Peggy Kearsey, has welcomed CNCM with open arms and a spirit of furthering collaboration for the benefit of the residents of Collinwood.

Please join us in prayer and gratitude for God’s blessings and for a future filled with hope as we continue to listen, to love, and to “go” where we are led throughout all of Collinwood.

Sincerely,
Sister Mary Ellen Brinovec, OSU and the team of Collinwood Neighborhood Ministries

A Day at the Beach

by Elizabeth Hiser

From fishing and swimming to boating and birding, Northeast Ohioans enjoy spending time on the water. And we're not alone - Lake Erie tourism in Ohio generates nearly $13 billion in revenue annually. But a day at the beach and the nearshore habitat that fish, birds and other wildlife depend on can be easily ruined by ignorance and carelessness.

Do your part to care for Lake Erie and our local waterways by following these Guidelines for Responsible Recreation:

- Fishing
- Collect all used fishing line and recycle it - look for a container like the one pictured to the right. At the very least, collect your used line and any other line you may encounter and dispose of it in a trash can.
  - Use only lead-free sinkers and other fishing products.
  - Don't release live bait into the water or at the shore - they may be nuisance species or even invasive.
  - Follow local catch-and-release and bag limit regulations to ensure a sustainable fishery.

- Boating
- Keep your engine clean and in proper working order to minimize oil and gas leaks.
  - Clean with a sponge and plain water whenever possible. When you must use soap, use as little as possible and make sure it is non-toxic, biodegradable and phosphate-free.
  - Prevent the spread of invasive species by practicing the Clean, Drain, Dry method on all equipment.
  - Take the Ohio Sea Grant Clean Boater Pledge at watercraft.ohiodnr.gov/clean-boating.

Beachgoing

    - Pack your trash out or make sure it gets in a trash can. Litter left carelessly on the beach ensnares wildlife and adds to the growing plastic pollution problem in Lake Erie. Plastic six-pack rings, fishing line and balloons are especially dangerous for wildlife.
    - Don't dispose of cigarette butts or cigar tips on the ground - they are toxic to wildlife, which often mistakes them for food.

Keep Calm and Sell Your Home

by Elisabeth Shaver

The Spring selling season is upon us and homes are selling quickly! If you're thinking of selling now is the perfect time.

Selling your home can be a pretty stressful time but I have a few tips to help you get ready to sell yours.

- Clean, organize and declutter closets, cabinets and counter-tops, it will give the appearance of more space. Buyers want to see how much space their new house has!
- Freshen up, throw a fresh coat of paint on the walls, clean the carpets, dust the ceiling fans and wash the windows. There are so many inexpensive ways to spruce things up making your home more appealing.
- Remove personal items and family photos keeping things neutral. Potential buyers want to picture themselves living in your home.
- Have your home inspection done prior to listing your home so you will be aware of what needs attention. You can start working on the repairs before it hits the market and there will - be no surprises later reducing the risk of a potential buyer walking away.

- First impressions are important, you only get one chance to make a great one! So make sure the grass is cut and the weeds are pulled. Repaint the front door and hang a pretty wreath, add some potted plants or flowers. Invite buyers into your home!
  - Have a plan of action for when your house sells. Will you be buying a new home? Talk with your lender ahead of time. Meet with a mover, so all you have to do is make that call. Be like the Girl Scouts and be prepared.
  - Find a Realtor® that you click with, one that you like. Talk to them and get a feel for their personality. You want someone who will listen, is honest, communicative and has a good heart!
  - Relax, keep calm and take it one step at a time! Moving is stressful BUT if you follow these steps and choose the right Realtor® you will set yourself up for less stress and success.

A group of community members are working together to support a literacy initiative—Little Free Library Neighborhood (LFL)—that began in Slavic Village with support from WKYC's, Margaret Bernstein, Director of Advocacy and Community Initiatives. Because of its success, it is now expanding to three additional neighborhoods, Hough, Central and Collinwood. The focus is to show the importance of reading at community events, the library and neighborhood schools and other institutions in the neighborhood. In addition, the community focuses on being a Little Free Library Neighborhood, where Little Free Library (places where people can pick up free books to read). The Collinwood Neighborhood currently has several Little Free Libraries in the community but can always use more. This initiative hopes to increase the number, provide upkeep and re-stocking existing ones and create programming to support literacy by providing books for children, families and people.

Meetings to discuss the project are held on the first Thursday of the month at 6:00pm. A calendar of events to support #Collinwood Reads is being developed and any community organization/person can submit a program for inclusion in the yearlong literacy calendar May 2018-May 2019. The Collinwood Community media focus will be during the months of January-March of 2019. Literacy programs and or activities information can be sent to collinwoodreads@gmail.com. A Facebook page with the same name has also been created to feature programs and provide information on current and upcoming events. Cornerstone organizations that are currently involved include the Collinwood Rec Center, Collinwood Neighborhood Catholic Ministries, The Salvation Army Cleveland Temple Corps, Literacy Innovations, Cleveland Public Library-Collinwood Branch, 12 Literary Arts, Councilmen Michael Polensek- Ward 8 and Anthony Hairston-Ward 10 and CDC's Collinwood Nottingham Development Corp and Northeast Shores Development Corp.

People to contact for more information are Ebony Donlye, Literacy Innovations-216-481-7544, Caroline Peak, Manager of Cleveland Public Library-Collinwood Branch 216-623-6934 (216-346-2371-Mobile) and Margaret Craig, The Salvation Army Cleveland Temple Corp 216- 692-1388. This is a very exciting community initiative and we hope you will engage with us to make this 1-Collinwood—1-Community Literacy Initiative a huge success.

Tri-C JazzFest awards

In 1904, George Hewlett founded Cleveland Union Engineering Company in Cleveland's Flats area. The company handled industrial metal manufacturing, welding, fabrication and steel erection. Hewlett's daughter married John Geiger, who is the grandfather of the current owner, also John Geiger, and great-grandfather of Jake who also works for the company. In the 1920s, it began to develop and build equipment for the distillery and brewing industries to clean and pasteurize milk jugs and beer bottles, hence a name change to Beverage Engineering. In the 1940s, it moved to its current location on Lakewood Heights Boulevard and transitioned its focus from beverage machines to machining for the war effort, and in 1957 it found its current incarnation as Beverage Machine & Fabricators, Inc. What do these changes signify? Adaptability! And, Beverage Machine has found its niche.

Though the company no longer is part of the beverage machine industry, it has continued its journey in the metalworking industry and now machines (cuts or finishes) hard-to-machine metal parts made from inconel, monel, stainless steel and titanium. It also has larger machines that can handle bigger, heavier pieces (up to 10 feet in diameter and 24,000 pounds) for the steel, energy, power, mining, nuclear, aerospace and defense industries. For example, it did a project for SpaceX last year, a company that designs, manufactures and launches advanced rockets and spacecraft. Beverage Machine also only handles one-off pieces and smaller orders rather than high-volume production. Its orders range from one to 25 pieces at a time. Five years ago, it added waterjet cutting to its capability, which broke the company out of traditional metal machining. Using the waterjet, the company has done work for sign and glass companies and machined the glass awards for last year's Tri-C JazzFest. With one piece of equipment, it expanded capacity and its customer base.

All of Beverage Machine's customers are regional, and they are served by only 16 employees. The company mainly employs machinists and is looking to and is willing to train a suitable candidate. Josh Smith, Beverage Machine's waterjet technician, says that the impact on today's labor problem started years ago when schools did away with shop programs and put the focus on college prep. He's worked for the company for 16 years, and his dad has been the plant manager for 25 years. He says, "When I went to school, the perception was that JVS [joint vocational school] was where the stoners and illiterates went and that everyone who can think goes to college." He says that in five years everyone in the industry will be retiring, and there's going to be a shortage of skilled labor. He adds that the industry has to reach students when they are 11 or 12 to show them that jobs in manufacturing are cool and innovative. To that end, he has started "ThinkSpark," a grassroots movement to create a foundation in Lorain County to inspire and mentor youth to consider careers in manufacturing, to partner with schools and connect children with technical programs, to develop a makerspace for youth in the program, and to create a robotic competition similar to AWT's RoboBots that takes place every April at Lakeland Community College.

John Geiger relates that the manufacturing industry in the area is healthy, but that his biggest challenge, which is the same for all manufacturers, is finding skilled labor or even unskilled labor who are interested in technical training. Recently, he met with representatives from Lorain County Community College about bringing students in for an apprenticeship training program.

From Founder John Geiger to his son, John Geiger, a machinist, to his son, John Geiger, a history major and sales specialist, to his son, John, aka Jake, Geiger, a business management major, the company has stayed in the hands of this capable family for four generations. John says about his business, "There is enough domestic need, and our niche gives us enough work. China can't serve these industries because customers have a part dependency and need it today." He shares, "I get satisfaction in seeing what we create every day. It's a tangible result." His son, Jake, adds, "It's rewarding to have a part come in and see the finished part leave the shop." As Josh Smith sums up, "What sets John apart is that he can see the greater good and a need. He sees what we can do for the next generation. It's not about making money. It's about family." Gina M. ## Free Summer Camp for Youths

by Jeanne Coppola

This year's annual D.I.V.A.S and Boys II Men, Free Summer Camp, will be held at Oliver H. Perry Elementary School, from June 4th through June 21st.

The camp is for all youths in the Collinwood community, who are in grades 4 through 8, and will be held on Monday through Thursday, from 9:00AM to 1:00PM.

At the camp, youths will be able to enjoy a variety of programs, and enhance their natural talents. They will learn leadership skills, hear guest speakers, and play sports like dodgeball, basketball and board games.

"The summer camp will be full of different activities, including: photography, art, poetry, writing, and include field trips (to the Zoo and skating)," said Angela Flowers, co-founder of Making a Difference Consulting, and creator of the D.I.V.A.S and Boys II Men, Annual Summer Camp.

"The Summer Camp will give youths the skills they need to transfer into the next school year, and it will help with social skills," she said.

"D.I.V.A.S and Boys II Men Free Summer Camp is sponsored through grants from Starting Point and MyCOM, a community partnership that enriches youths through after school activities. This grant provides community dollars for the Collinwood Community," said Flowers.

Oliver H. Perry Elementary School is located at 18400 Schenely Ave, Cleveland, OH 44119.

For more information, or to enroll, contact Angela Flowers at: 216-394-3012 or www.makingadifferenceconsulting.com

"Registration will still be accepted one and a half weeks into the event," said Flowers.

OLL First Communion

During Masses over the weekend of May 5-6, 2018 twelve young disciples celebrated their First Communion as members of Our Lady of the Lake Parish. The previous weekend they had come together to celebrate "Jesus Day," which was the last of their 10 family sessions in preparation for their reception of the Eucharist.

During Lent, in March, they celebrated their First Reconciliation (First Confession) during a communal celebration of the sacrament, along with the 8th grade Confirmation candidates.

Making a Joyful Noise at the Slovenian Home

Our Lady of the Lake's Music Ministry likes to "go forth" into the community, to share the gift of music. One favorite annual tradition has been a visit to the Slovene Home for the Aged, where OLL parishioners enjoy a concert together with residents. This year 12 members of the music ministry provided a wonderful selection of pieces for an audience of nearly 60 people. It was fun to see OLL School alumni come back to be part of the event. And the residents particularly enjoyed singing along with a traditional Slovenian hymn.

OLL Confirmation

"Give them the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and fortitude, the spirit of knowledge and piety; fill them with the spirit of the fear of the Lord." With these words, Bishop Martin Amos, retired Bishop of the Diocese of Davenport, Iowa, extended his hands in blessing and prayed over the 31 candidates for Confirmation at Our Lady of the Lake parish on Sunday, May 20.

Following this prayer, Bishop Amos then conferred the Sacrament of Confirmation using the oil of chrism which serves as a symbol and "seal" of the gifts which each first received at baptism, and now embrace as 8th grade students headed off to high school in just a few months.

The parish held a reception afterward in honor of those newly confirmed, now referred to as "confirmandi."

We Celebrate Our Students!

Students were fascinated by City Music Cleveland's new program just for children. Performed by In2ative the program combined instrumental music, dance and a little audience participation beat-boxing. Students had lots of questions for the performers.

Sabrina won top prize in her category and then top prize overall at St. Jerome School's annual Science Fair for her investigation of solar power.

St. Jerome students displayed their musical talents as well as some newly acquired language skills at the Spring Concert. Groups of students performed songs from around the world as well as songs they had written themselves.

"Is it time yet?" Soon to be graduates wait outside for Baccalaureate Mass to begin. Best wishes to our Class of 2018!

Celebrating Our Faith!

Congratulations Daniel, Theo, Andre, Kaylani, and Torsten. A big thank you to Maria and Marguerite who worked to prepare the children to receive the Blessed Sacrament.

We celebrated Deacon Peter Travalik's 25th anniversary of Ordination as a Permanent Deacon.

Our first communicants and their families gather for this wonderful celebration of our faith.

The Kindergarten students lead the school May Crowning with the help of Daniel, one of our first communicants.

We Celebrate our Families!

50 years of marriage is something to celebrate! Congratulations Ann and Tom!

Precious little Betty came to celebrate her mom Erin on Mother's Day!

Animal Adaptations

Preschool is a little hesitant about touching the animal fur!

by Lyndsey Byrne

The preschool and Kindergarten classes at St. Jerome school welcomed Miss Phoebe from the Cleveland Metroparks on Monday, May 7th. Miss Phoebe is part of the animal adaptations program. The program teaches children about different animals and the structures they have on, or in, their bodies that influence their survival.

Learning all about animal adaptations!

She brought in various display materials and animal mounts to gain a better understanding of key terms such as adaptations, camouflage and warning colors.

The children all enjoyed learning about animals they see everyday. This hands-on approach really helped our young learners dive deeper into wilderness animals!

Faith. Family. Future.

Congratulations to the VASJ Class of 2018

On May 29, Villa Angela-St. Joseph High School held its 28th annual commencement ceremony in which 86 graduates received their diplomas. As of that date, 54 students had reported over $7.3 million received in scholarships.

Leading the Class of 2018 were Valedictorian, Timothy Raddell, and Salutatorian, Mary Furlan. Being top of their class didn't happen by "chance." It was something they have thought about and pushed hard for since their freshman year. They shared some highlights from their four years at VASJ.

Q What does being the top two students in your class mean to you?

Tim: It's really more of an honor than anything else.
Mary: It's a good reflection of my accomplishments at the school.

Q Was it your goal to be the top two students in your class?

Tim: My brother Nick ('01) was Valedictorian too. My mom said once that it would be nice if her first and last kids were both Valedictorian. That really stuck with me and I really strove for that.

Mary: It has been a goal of mine since my freshman year because I wanted to show everyone that I could do it. My mother has always been on me about my grades. She really drove me to try my best and get good grades and the hard work paid off. So, thanks, mom.

Q What will you miss the most about VASJ?

Tim: The community. It's really one-of-a-kind. I don't know of any other place that has what we have here. It's not something that will be easily replaceable.
Mary: Wow, I have to pick one thing? I'm going to miss the fun memories with my classmates and my teachers.

Q How did the teachers give you independence?

Mary: They would give you an assignment and it was up to you to turn it in on time. They wouldn't walk you through it step-by-step. You would have to do the work on your own.

Q What's next for you?

Tim: Going to Borromeo Seminary to discern what's next for me and what God has planned for me. I'm going to study philosophy and the classics.

Class of 2018 Valedictorian Timothy Raddell plans to attend Borromeo Seminary. Salutatorian Mary Furlan plans to attend Chatham University in Pittsburgh where she will study marketing and graphic design.

Mary: I'll be attending Chatham University in Pittsburgh and I plan on double majoring in marketing and graphic design. I definitely want to do something with art.

Q Any final thoughts?

Tim: Everyone is so close here. We're all a family and we all support one another. It's one-of-a-kind. It really is.
Mary: There is really no other place like it. If you want to be somewhere where you matter, come here because we want you to make a difference.

Q Any advice for future VASJ students?

Tim: Find a way to balance being involved but not trying to do everything. Don't waste your high school experience.
Mary: Get involved early because

'Give Box CLE' hosts Community GIVE Day at Waterloo Arts

Donate non-perishable goods and toiletries to Give Box CLE on Saturday, July 7th from 11am-1pm at Waterloo Arts. Stay to paint a box, which will be located in the community for neighbors to give what they can and take when they need.

by Allison Lukacsy-Love

In 2016 an Arkansas woman saw a need in her community and recognized her own power to help address it. This woman began the Little Free Pantry project, which has spread to Akron and Berea, and thanks to an awesome collaboration, now Cleveland through 'Give Box CLE'.

Hunger is pervasive in many Cleveland neighborhoods, including Collinwood. Despite being in the footprint of the Greater Cleveland Food Bank, the Salvation Army and multiple faith-based food pantries, one in five people in Northeast Ohio is food insecure, meaning they do not know where their next meal comes from.

Little Free Pantries including 'Give Box CLE' won't fix this staggering statistic, but together we can positively impact the quality of life for our neighbors. Just like Little Free Libraries - which have popped up in Collinwood throughout the years - Give Box CLE is a sturdy wood box outfitted with shelves and a plexiglass door that sits on a post in the lawns of generous stewards. Neighbors can come and go from these boxes anonymously - giving what they can and taking what they need without the barriers that sometimes come with food assistance programs.

In addition to non-perishable goods, Give Boxes contain personal care items, toiletries, information about government supported aid and notes of positivity and gratitude.

How will these Give Boxes be filled with all of this essential stuff? That's where YOU come in!

On Saturday, July 7th, 2018 from 11am to 1pm at Waterloo Arts (15605 Waterloo Road - or the lawn across E.156th Street in good weather), members of the community are encouraged to drop off unused, unexpired supplies at the first ever GIVE day. From chapstick to toothpaste, dried pasta to canned beans, your contribution can make a difference.

And while you are donating and stopping by the Waterloo Arts District, why not get a little creative and grab a paint brush and join volunteers as we paint the hand-built Little Free Pantries before they are disseminated to the stewards? Brushes and paint will be provided.

The boxes will be built in the month of June by Youth Opportunity Unlimited (YOU) employees through the new local non-profit 'Kids of the 216'. These same teenage employees will install the boxes throughout Cleveland later in the summer. If you are interested to host a box on your property, please contact 'Give Box CLE' founder Allison at alukacsy@gmail.com

At GIVE day, anyone can donate items, paint a box (we will have stencils for non-artists!) and jot down a few positive messages for inside the boxes. And please do come to meet the teenagers who are making an impact in their own communities through this collaboration with YOU and 'Kids of the 216'.

Paint Nite at the Collinwood Slovenian Home!

by Angela Ferritto

On Fri, June 29 2018, at 7:00 pm, The Collinwood Slovenian Home is having a fundraiser that will be a fun time for everyone.

"Paint Nite" brings everything you need to create your own painting. There will be an artist to guide you and your friends through two lively hours of creativity, drinking, and laughing. You don't have to be an artist to have a fabulous time!

You will go home with a beautiful 16" x 20" painting that YOU created. Your ticket also includes a free cocktail, appetizers, and desserts!

The photo is this article is of the painting we will be creating.

Please join us at The Collinwood Slovenian Home for a great evening that will help support one of our historic neighborhood institutions.

Tickets are $45.00, and must be purchased by June 15, 2018.

Mark your calendars for the 2018 F*SHO at HGR Industrial Surplus

by Gina Tabasso

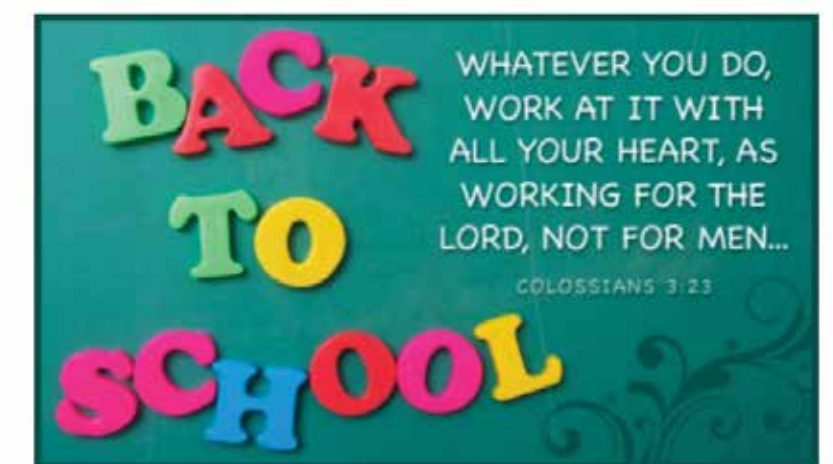

Back for a second time at HGR Industrial Surplus, but in a different space in the front of the building in HGR's Incoming/Receiving area, HGR Industrial Surplus will be hosting Amanda and Jason Radcliffe's, of 44 Steel, annual F*SHO, a contemporary and industrial furniture design show, for one night on Sept. 14 from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. It's still free and put on courtesy of 44 Steel. There's still free beer and music. But, this year we will have a variety of food trucks so that the food doesn't run out, and we can buy more beer! Last year was such a success with more than 2,000 attendees that you won't want to miss it. If you did, you can read about last year's show here.

As more details become available, we'll be posting them on HGR's blog, Facebook and Twitter sites. Stay tuned!

If you are interested in exhibiting at the show, contact Jason or Amanda at 44 Steel at 440.821.8495 or inquiries@44steel.com.

Silhouette Productions and The Shore Cultural Centre Auditions for SHREK “The Musical”

by Charlotte Mirabile
Open auditions for Shrek The Musical at Silhouette Productions!

Based on the Oscar-winning Dream-Works Animation film, Shrek The Musical is a Tony Award-winning fairy tale adventure, featuring all new songs from Jeanine Tesori (Thoroughly Modern Millie; Caroline, or Change) and a sidesplitting book by David Lindsay-Abaire. Shrek brings all the beloved characters you know from the film to life on stage and proves there's more to the story than meets the ears.

Produced by Charlotte Mirabile
Directed by Douglas F. Bailey II
Musically Directed by Dave Cox
Choreography by Jen Justice

When: June 20th and 27th from 7:00 pm-9:30 pm. No appointment necessary. Please arrive at 7:00 pm and be prepared to move. CALLBACKS July 7th 12-5 PM if necessary invitation only.

Production Dates: October 12-21
Where: Shore Cultural Center Room 242

What to prepare: Please prepare two 32 bar cuts of contrasting musical theatre songs in the style of the show. Please also prepare a short joke.

SHREK will begin rehearsals August 26th and runs October 12-21. Rehearsals will generally be Sunday Afternoons, and Monday-Thursday evenings.

There are no AEA contracts for this production. ALL ROLES ARE AVAILABLE. QUESTIONS? Email the director at douglasfbaileyii@gmail.com

A Note on Casting:
It is the director's goal to engage a large and diverse cast in this family friendly classic. All races, creeds, gender identities, sexual orientations, ages, and body types are encouraged to audition and will be considered for all roles when casting.

Shrek
Our story's title character. A big, green, terrifying ogre who lives alone on a swamp. He embarks on a journey to rid his land of fairytale creatures and, along the way, falls in love with Fiona. Begins as a grumpy hermit, but reveals his layers and eventually becomes the hero.

Vocal range top: G#4
Vocal range bottom: A2
Fiona
The beautiful princess of Far Far Away, she transforms into an ogre every night when the sun sets. Rescued by Shrek and eventually falls in love with him. Quirky, blunt, and multitalented, she is not an ordinary princess. TAP DANCE EXPERIENCE PREFERRED

Vocal range top: G5
Vocal range bottom: F3
Donkey
A talking donkey who joins Shrek on the run from Farquaad's guards. Quite the chatterbox, he is not deterred by Shrek's looks and practically forces himself into his good graces. Easily frightened and pushy, but also an optimistic with heart.

Vocal range top: B4
Vocal range bottom: C3
Lord Farquaad
The comically short, ruthless ruler of Duloc. He is in search of a prince to marry so that he can become king. Has an intensely unfair bias against fairytale creatures that stems from a resentment of his father. Self-absorbed, lonely, and cruel.

Vocal range top: D5
Vocal range bottom: B2
Dragon
A dragon that has been charged with guarding Princess Fiona in her isolated castle. She eventually falls in love with Donkey and attempts to keep him there forever. Imposing and flirtatious, but tired of her job as the glorified baby-sitter. Vocal range top: Eb5

Vocal range bottom: F3
Gingy

A gingerbread man initially kidnapped by Lord Farquaad. His wit and resolution help him both avoid trouble and inspire the rest of the fairytale creatures. Puppet. Can be operated by actress appearing as Sugar Plum Fairy.

Vocal range top: C#5
Vocal range bottom: B3
Pinocchio
The leader of the fairytale creatures. He is an animated puppet whose nose grows every time he lies. Plenty of sass with a penchant for lying.

Vocal range top: F#4
Vocal range bottom: E3
Ensemble (also features Children's ensemble)
Fairytale Creatures (Big Bad Wolf, Three Little Pigs, White Rabbit, Fairy Godmother, Peter Pan, Wicked Witch, Ugly Duckling, Three Bears, Mad Hatter, Humpty Dumpty, Elf, Dwarf, Three Blind Mice); Angry Mob; Happy People; Guards; Knights; Rats

School board to revisit building plan

by CMSD NEWS BUREAU

Acting on an independent watchdog's recommendation, the Cleveland Board of Education will consider revising its master plan for building and renovating schools.

It has been four years since the plan was last amended and six years since the District began assembling the data used to modify the document.

The Bond Accountability Commission, which was created for the specific purpose of monitoring the ongoing modernization program, has called for an "extensive re-examination" of the plan based on current neighborhood population and enrollment patterns, changes in academic programming and rising construction costs. (Read the BAC report here.)

More recently, the state drastically limited reimbursement for Cleveland's school construction program. The policy changes could force the District to absorb millions of dollars in additional expenses.

Before considering revisions, the District will seek direction from the public. Community meetings will begin June 5. The meeting schedule and other information can be found at clevelandmetroschools.org/buildingplan.

"We support the Bond Accountability Commission's recommendation," District CEO Eric Gordon said. "It's logical to re-evaluate the plan under current conditions, and keeping with past practice, we want to ask for guidance from our families and other stakeholders."

The District has built and substantially renovated more than 40 buildings since the program began in 2002. Work is well under way on seven PreK-8 buildings and construction of two high schools is set to begin soon.

In 2014, voters overwhelmingly approved a $200 million bond issue to help fund the remainder of the program. Plans, based on community input, called for building 20 to 22 schools and remodeling 20 to 23 schools.

The state contributes slightly more than $2 for every $1 in local funds spent for construction and substantial renovation.

But in an abrupt break from 16 years of practice in Cleveland, the Ohio Facilities Construction Commission has decided to virtually eliminate allowances made for the regional market's higher building costs. The OFCC now wants to hold all districts in the state -- urban, suburban or rural -- to a maximum contribution of $255 per square foot.

The last time the OFCC spent $255 per square foot for construction in Cleveland was in 2008. The commission is currently paying about $285 a square foot.

Chief Operating Officer Patrick Zohn said that under the change, CMSD would have to pay an extra $20 million for the eight schools to be built in the next segment of the program.
