Collinwood Community Comes Together to Support Local Businesses

Remember all the businesses that you've asked for years and years to donate to your clubs, events and organizations? Their calling in a favor. Answer the call.

by Sarah Gyorki

You may have seen the meme here going around online. We know - it's got a typo in it. But the point is still good! For years and years, our local businesses have been supporting our raffles and fundraisers and community events. They've also hosted our parties and baked our birthday cakes and cleaned our suits and cut our hair and made our wedding flowers and too many other things to even begin to list.

Our small local businesses -- they're our community, just like our neighbors are.

And right now, they're going through a really hard time. Imagine if all the businesses that had to close or cut back for the Coronavirus crisis never came back -- all those services gone for good, and all those jobs with them. We want to do what we can to not let that happen.

So we're doing what Collinwood does, we're coming together as neighbors and helping each other out. Here are some of the ways you can help those local businesses you love, so they'll still be here to teach you yoga or fix your car or print your Tshirts and business cards. Take these as suggestions, use the ones that make sense for you, and come up with your own ideas. But however you can, try now more than ever to be a good neighbor and support our local businesses.

Buy a gift card. Lots of local businesses have started offering gift cards online, so check the website and see if that option is available. You can use it to buy the services you count on when we get back to business as usual. And gift cards also make great gifts -- if you have a gift-giving event coming up, consider giving local gift cards.

Order to go. Some establishments can still offer take-out, delivery and even curbside pick up. Keep on enjoying your favorite coffee, pizza, breakfast -- whatever. Staying home is more fun with good food. Buy a little extra for a neighbor who's homebound.

Pay it forward by paying for the services you would have used. If you've still got your job and you know your barber doesn't, consider sending a check for the amount you would normally have budgeted for hair cuts. They'll take good care of you when they get back to work.

Make a donation. Some of the places we love are nonprofits, and most of them can accept donations online. Lots are still working hard to help people suffering from this crisis -- so show them some love. Gifts of any size are appreciated.

Spread the word. Let your neighbors know, share on Facebook, like and follow on social media, post a great review. We know the status of local businesses is changing all the time -- some are still closing, others are adding online options or delivery. Here are some places you can go to get more information.

Councilman Update

by Michael D. Polensek

As the Dean of Cleveland City Council, I thought I had seen it all and experienced it all over the years. I have often said that I have seen the good, the bad and the ugly. It is hard to put in words what we, as Americans, are experiencing with the outbreak of the Covid -19 or coronavirus. I never thought we would see one business after another shut down and schools closed. This is difficult enough, but then to be unable to celebrate everyday events or visit family members in the nursing homes or other care facilities is extremely difficult to comprehend. To not even be able to visit a dying loved one at Hospice or attend their funeral - is nothing shy of unimaginable. Yet, it is the reality today in Cleveland and throughout Ohio.

I am torn between anger and sympathy. My sympathies to those who are sick and infected with the virus and also those who have lost loved ones. I am also extremely angry, though, that in America we were not better prepared for this fight, even when we all saw on TV the medical workers in China in white "space suits" with respirators. Why wasn't that a wakeup call to our Nation's leaders? Now, to realize that we are dependent upon Communist China and other countries for basic pharmaceuticals and medical equipment is absolutely outrageous.

I am hoping, like all Americans, that our national leaders in Washington, D.C., and in our statehouses across the country, can come together and put forth whatever action is necessary to get a handle on this deadly outbreak. I am hoping and praying that this is a wake-up call for all Americans. For far too long one presidential administration after another, both Republican and Democrat, have looked the other way or have been a facilitator for American jobs and products to go offshore.

The late great Honorable Louis Stokes told me the day after the NAFTA vote years ago, "Mike, I hope I am wrong, but I believe we are all going to hear the sucking sound of jobs going out of the country, especially manufacturing jobs." Louis must have had a crystal ball, for what he feared has come true. It is time for us, as a country, to protect our most critical supply chain and to control our borders.

I say the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" everyday - and I recite it with great respect. I expect our leaders to do everything in their power to protect Americans and their children. In these last two weeks I have questioned whether or not that those in charge on the federal level really understand the severity of the problem. The statement has been made that we are at war with an invisible enemy; one that knows no race, ethnicity or creed. Time will tell whether our leaders will have our backs and how we, as a nation, will rebound from this pandemic.

I urge all of you to take the appropriate measures to safeguard yourself and your family. We all know by now what steps to take against this potential killer. In the meantime, I urge and beg all our residents to look out for one another, especially our elderly and most vulnerable citizens. I also urge everyone to write our U.S. Senators Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, as well as Congresswoman Marcia Fudge to demand that critical products be mandated to be made in America.

It goes without saying, the majority of businesses in our community have been hard hit and/or forced to close. Those which you can patronize, please do so with precautions. Please listen to the continued updates both nationally and locally from TV, radio, Facebook and through robocalls. Please, look out for one another while maintaining social distancing and hope for the best.

I know it is not politically correct, but, as you know, I am not politically correct. I am praying, even though our churches are shuttered, for our community, our country and the world's community. The power of prayer, I believe, can play a major role in combating this deadly virus. Please support our medical community and our first responders who are on the front lines.

During this time, even though City Hall is closed, we are still working. You can reach my office via phone at (216) 664-4236. Just leave a message and make sure you leave me your name and phone number so we can get back to you. You may also send me an email at mpolensek@clevelandcitycouncil.org or via my Executive Assistant, Mary Louise's email at mdaley@ clevelandcitycouncil.org. We check these often.

Take care and God Bless.

Sincerely yours, Michael D. Polensek

Connecting Collinwood

by Jamar Doyle

During this unprecedented time in our country, state and community, we at Greater Collinwood Development Corporation are seeking ways to connect, support, and serve our community. With shifting requirements and recommended best practices, we will commit to continue serving our mission in a safe and effective way in this era of social distancing. To that end our offices are now closed, but our staff are still working remotely. Please know that while our Five Pointe Community Center is closed to the public, we are still serving the community through our food distribution program. A partnership with the Greater Cleveland Food Bank, this program is now offered on a drive thru basis. Visit our website or Facebook page for upcoming dates and times of the food distribution and stay tuned to www.greatercollinwood.org or our Facebook page for current information regarding Greater Collinwood Development.

- Many of us are feeling unsure what we can do to help our community during this time of social distancing. We have a few suggestions for you.
- Create a phone tree with your neighbors.
- Commit to checking in on each other, particularly with neighbors in need and the elderly.
- Buy a gift certificate from a local business, if you can afford to do so. Commit to supporting local businesses that offer carry-out or delivery.

- Drop off food for a neighbor in • need.
- Continue to stay active and healthy. There are many exercise programs online. GCDC will link any local active living programs on our website.
- Download free conferencing apps and connect with neighbors for virtual social gatherings or meetings.

These are just a few suggestions, there are many others. We would love to hear how you are connecting and supporting the community. We have established a special email for this purpose, connecting@greatercollinwood.org. Use this email to send us information and resources that you would like to share with your fellow community members, and we will share it on our various platforms.

Together we can support our fellow neighbors and businesses, and together we can get through this moment even stronger.

Please reach out to us and stay safe and healthy.

Jamar Doyle, Executive Director Greater Collinwood Development Corporation

Vote by Mail to be Extended Until April 28 for March 17 Primary

by Alisa Boles

As of this writing, the Ohio General Assembly has extended the Vote-by-Mail deadline for the 2020 primary election until April 28th. This is in response to the closing of the in-person polling locations on March 17th due to concerns about the worldwide coronavirus disease outbreak.

Registered voters who haven't voted already can request a Vote-by-Mail application online.

Here is the link for Cuyahoga County residents: https://boe.cuyahogacounty.us/ en-US/VoteByMail.aspx Those with access to a printer, can down-load a form from the website.

Cuyahoga County voters may also call their local Board of Elections at (216) 443-8683 or write the following information on a blank sheet of paper and mail it to their BOE:

- full name
- date of birth

- full registration address including county address where ballot should be mailed if different from your registration address one of the these: Ohio driver's license number, last four of your Social Security number or include a copy of an acceptable form of ID

- State that "I'm requesting an absentee ballot for the March 17th Ohio Primary" indicate if you want a: Democratic, Republican, Libertarian or Issues only ballot (choose only one) - sign it

- today's date

-phone number (optional, but suggested) -email address (optional but suggested)

If you had already sent your ballot in, do not vote again. Your ballot is being held and will be counted with the others on April 28th, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Because all ballots postmarked by April 27th will be counted, officials will not have a count available until May 8, 2020.

There will be no in-person voting at any of the local precints, but in-person voting will be available on April 28th at the BOE at the below address in downtown Cleveland for Cuyahoga County voters who do not have a home mailing address and for persons with disabilities. Those who qualify for ADA accomodations can contact their BOE for absentee voting accomodations as well, or apply online for remote ballot-marking system access: https://www.ohiosos.gov/ elections/voters/11-g/

Contact info for Cuyahoga County BOE:

2925 Euclid Ave. Cleveland, OH 44115 Telephone: (216) 443-8683 Fax: (216) 443-6633 E-mail:electioninfo@cuyahogacounty.us Website:boe.cuyahogacounty.us

CDC Housing Team is Here for You

by Candy Lovely

The Greater Collinwood Development Corporation housing team covers a lot of territory and watches over thousands of structures from lake shore houses to large warehouses from by-gone industries to your part of the neighborhood. Daily our team works to ensure that the housing stock adds value to where we live. But during these trying times we are here to be your resource.

Currently all utilities have suspended the disruption of service. If you have had a recent disconnection you are eligible, most likely, to be reconnected. Please contact individual providers if you are experiencing a difficulty to have them assist you.

Currently all city trash collection and recycling will go on as scheduled. PLEASE NOTE: There will be no bulk pick up in April. Can may not be placed out before noon the day prior to pick up and must be removed by noon the next day. Garbage cans must be placed further back than the porch and they may not rest against a neighboring structure for health reasons. Please be considerate of your neighbors and make certain that all cans have their lids down to keep debris from flying down the street. all evictions as well. No new cases will be filed in the next two months. Additionally, all criminal and civil cases will be re-scheduled into April. Parties will be served new summons to appear in the mail. If you have specific questions please call the Cleveland Municipal Court, Housing Division at 216.664.4295.

Many lenders will be allowing loan modifications under guidelines that will be coming from the federal government.

In the coming weeks we will be compiling resources to help households impacted by this crisis. The first step will be to call your lender and see what they can do to help you.

If you are currently on a payment plan for taxes with Cuyahoga County and you have been impacted they want to hear from you. Please reach out to the Fiscal Office 216.443.7400 to talk to someone about your situation. The county has suspended all owner occupant foreclosures for the next couple of months. County staff can give you the most current information on your property and point you in the direction of help. You may be eligible to enter into a new payment plan.

Our team will be continuing their search for vacant and neglected properties. We work closely with Cleveland Building and Housing to make certain that homes and properties that need attention are getting it. If you have problem vacant property near you and you want to make certain that we are aware of it you may call our staff. While our team is working remotely during this emergency time we are picking up our calls. You may reach out to us at 216.383.9772. If you are a Ward 8 resident (Councilman Polensek) call Julia Roberts ext 211. If you live in Ward 10 (Councilman Hairston) call Aja Aaron-Chappell ext 205. They are your resource for complaints in the neighborhood and can help you get the answers that you need.

Nan's Notes: Waterloo in the Time of Coronavirus

by Nan Kennedy

This issue is a bit ragged round the edges, things change faster than I can edit. I'm assuming nobody cares much.

Quiet, is what Waterloo is. But its inhabitants are working hard to stay in business and stay in touch. For businesses that couldn't stay open, consider buying a gift card – the business gets income now, you get a prepaid treat later. Or you can order food to be delivered to someone who has trouble making three meals a day at home. Or fill your gift list ahead of time.

Shop & Eat Local

Citizen Pie is closed, but Messina's Pizza and Bakery on Ivanhoe is open for carry out with their full menu (excellent bread, rolls, pizzas, cookies – I particularly love their white pizza with peppers). And they have gift certificates. (Messina's is also a blast from the past – a real neighborhood store. Check out the little black cat living outside the back door.) Six Shooter is doing curbside delivery (cash only, order on line); CLE Biscuitheads daily as well piping hot sandwiches to go, and vegan pastry and milk available. And coffee, of course. And they have gift cards, in the shop and on line.

RAW. ORGANIC. COLD PRESSED.

Ritual Juicery (ritualjuicery.com) is launching a delivery service; check out website.

The Beachland has shut down for a couple weeks to reassess carry-out possibilities in early to mid April.

Further afield, Scotti's, Beach Club Bistro and Great Scott are all offering curbside pick-up – also DoorDash at Great Scott. Scotti's, Great Scott and the Bistro have gift outbreaks to date, have found no transmission through food. What about romaine? you will say. That isn't surface contamination, that's because e.coli crept in through the water/soil – a sewage leak, maybe; it's not on the surface and washing doesn't help.

Not a virus issue, this one, but I'd been wondering whether Cleveland water contains PFAS, those nasty manufactured chemicals that are soaking the earth and never break down. The response from Chuck Smith at Cle Water, "In a nutshell, Cleveland Water is in great shape with regards to PFCs (or PFAS)."

The background to his response, "PFAS comprises at least 5,000 chemicals used in products every day. You are exposed to these chemicals constantly (Scotch Guard), Teflon cookware, Teflon tape, dental floss, clothing and boot waterproofing, granite counter top sealants, carpeting, stain-proof baby clothes, car seats and fabric, plastic toys, make-up, food containers like pizza boxes, Chinese to-go containers, waxy sandwich wrappers, waxy paper cups, etc.) There are thousands of ways to come in contact with PFAS containing products).

"As a Cleveland Water customer, I am pleased to tell you our water is NOT one of those routes of exposure. (Which made me think I should be worrying about other things than water.) "We have tested for the 5 main PFAS chemicals both in our raw water (Lake Erie) and our treated finished water as it leaves the plants numerous times and we have yet to have a single qualified detection for any of these chemicals. This was done four times in 2013 under the federallymandated UCMR3 monitoring requirements, plus, since 2016, we have done three additional rounds of raw, finished, and most recently 8 distribution sites. Again, we have not had a single detection in over 190 individual test results.

"We do not anticipate seeing any level of PFAS, and if for some reason we do get a detection, it will likely be very very low. Please keep in mind, we are talking about parts per trillion in measurements. For comparison: One part per trillion is equivalent to dumping 2-1/2 blue rainbarrels (the ones you might find attached to your roof gutter downspout) into ALL of Lake Erie.

"The media and environmental groups are doing a very poor job of explaining this and the typical relative risk of water versus the many other routes of exposure we all face. Granted, there are some locations where the water supply does have PFAS issues, but these are almost exclusively ground water sources (Cleveland uses a surface water source). "I would speculate most Lake Erie water systems will not have a problem unless they are located closer to shore and have potential influence from rivers which have wastewater treatment plants located on them. Cleveland Water intakes are so far out and in such deep water that we have virtually no influence from any river or land-based runoff. We are unique in that regard."

The Many Ways to Help

Jergens, a South Waterloo manufacturer, innovator and leader in community development (and sometime Waterloo Arts booster), shifted gears Monday to begin 24-7 production of screwdrivers necessary to build medical devices and ventilators. There are ways to help one hasn't thought of.

Things To Look Forward To

At Praxis: Tali Weinberg "Weathering" April 3 - May 24. Opening reception: April 3, 6 - 9pm; Artist talk at 7:30 pm

Tali will exhibit weavings that intertwine 124 years of annual average temperature for places she once called home, with 138 years of annual average temperature for the world's oceans, and memories of that home's landscape. Drawings that evoke the flexibility of cloth and build on the mathematical patterning of weaving, while also undermining the logic of weaving, will round out the show. These drawings, recordings of a specific place and time, were created while listening to news of the hurricanes, floods, and fires from August-October 2017.

Stitch Shibori With Indigo: May 2nd 10 - 4 Discover the ancient practice of Shibori using natural and synthetic indigo. Shibori is a Japanese technique to bind, tie and stitch fabric to create different resisted marks and patterns. This workshop focuses on stitch resist. The natural indigo is grown in our very own dye garden here in Cleveland. All materials included, beginners welcome. Instructor: Sandy Shelenberger $115 per person. register online.

Around The Neighborhood

At the Market

Coit Road market house is extremely well ventilated, and never crowded. It had, last eye steak, ground pork, cheese, eggs, mushrooms, cabbage, shallots, onions, cookies, brownies, coffee, pickles, honey, and gluten-free everything. (If you're not a fan of gluten-free bread, try Chandra's oat bread.) Plus the market is practically open-air, and not crowded – you can distance very socially . . . or socialize very distantly. Plus everything is brought in by the organic farmers who grew it - no multihandler supply chain.

Annual French Toast Breakfast Fundraiser April 4 (maybe)

With local farm eggs, northeast Ohio maple syrup, local butter, apple cider or freshbrewed Crooked River Coffee, all for $6. $10 includes 3 slices of French toast, buckboard bacon or chicken sausage. Yum!

In a word, "The market will be open Saturdays year-round, 8:00am to 1:00pm, with eggs, vegetables, greens, grass-fed cheese and meat, baked goods, maple syrup, honey, spices and plenty more from our local farmers and vendors." And Wednesdays April to October. Usually. Stay tuned.

US Census Bureau Responds to COVID-19

by Greater Collinwood Development Corporation Staff

The US Census Bureau issued a statement, March 15, 2020, in response to Covid-19 and data collection. According to the statement, the Census is adjusting operations with two key principles in mind: protecting public health and safety of staff and the public, and fulfilling its statutory requirement to deliver the 2020 Census counts to the President on schedule.

US Census Bureau states that the planned completion date of data collection can and will be adjusted if necessary as the situation evolves in order to achieve a complete and accurate count. Planned completion date of data collection is July 31, 2020.

US Census Bureau is encouraging response by phone, by mail or online. Households began receiving invitations to complete the 2020 Census March 12 - March 20. Additional reminders will be mailed throughout the month. Census Takers are currently slated to follow up in person from May - June to households that do not respond to 2020 Census invitations.

The Census Bureau is adjusting operations to make sure college students are counted at correct place of residence, working with group quarters administrators who have requested in-person visits (such as nursing homes, college dorms, prisons, and other institutional living facilities), and working with service providers at emergency and transitional shelters, soup kitchens and mobile food vans to provide paper Census forms.

US Census Bureau is also delaying the start of a Mobile Questionnaire Assistance program to April 13th, and delaying the start of Early Non Response Follow Up operation to April 23rd.

For details about the US Census Bureau response to Covid-19 and for the most current news, please visit US Census press release site at: https://www.census.gov

Upstage Players Frozen Jr. Postponed, Not Canceled

by Kurt Steigerwald

While the show didn't go on, it must at some point.

UpStage Players, a local performing arts group with an all children cast, was preparing for a weekend of performances of Frozen Jr in late March when the Covid-19 crisis caused them to shut down the show. Postponement is the most likely scenario according to Bernadette Walsh, Executive Director, who said that without the ticket revenue, the group would be facing a huge deficit.

"We were all ready to go when we had to pull the plug," said Walsh. For 25 consecutive years the non-profit group has put on performances featuring 50-80 children. UpStage Players has always kept the show going regardless of the personal challenges, including the death of close family members of staff. Unfortunately, the coronavirus crisis took matters to another level.

Having already paid for the rights to perform the show, the group is looking at options for performing at a later time. Originally scheduled in the Nottingham Branch of the Cleveland Public Library, UpStage will have to look at all options once an opportunity arises to perform the show.

In the meantime, performers uploaded scenes onto the UpStage Players Facebook for people to enjoy. With young actors performing in small groups in front of family or friends, they were at least able to get a short moment of stage time – if in a controlled environment. Fans can view some performances online to see some of the highlights.

Walsh commented that the group has been very conservative with their spending, so they are able to manage in the short term. They purchased the rights to the show from a theater company that is also dealing with the realities of delayed payments and the financial impact of the shutdown. "They've been absolutely great. Very understanding of our situation. Normally, our rights to do the show would have expired, but they are giving us an extension," said Walsh. She left no doubt about the future of the performance. "We will return."

Ohio Department of Commerce Announces Liquor Buy Back

Ohio Department of Commerce, Liquor Control Division, announced a buyback program March 16 to ease business impact of bar and restaurant closures due to Covid-19 outbreak.

Businesses will have the option to return unopened high-proof liquor products purchased in the last 30 days and is also open to any businesses that secured a temporary F-2 permit for an event scheduled between March 12 - April 6 that has been canceled, with possible consideration closer to April 6 if necessary.

NEOCH & Cleveland Recovers Bridge Gaps in Need

Recently launched NEOCH Mutual Aid Fund and Cleveland Recovers community hub help to bridge gaps in need for Clevelanders affected by Covid-19 outbreak. The NEOCH fund aims to assist individuals facilitating mutual aid projects with microgrants of $500, while the Cleveland Recovers hub connects individuals seeking assistance with those able to provide assistance.

NEOCH's mission for the Mutual Aid Fund is to provide rapid response assistance to people who need it without relying on large systems that can be slow to respond. The fund aims to empower individuals and small groups to take responsibility for one another's safety and wellbeing.

Cleveland Recovers is designed to facilitate community preparedness and recovery. Individuals can request help at the community hub or sign up to donate or volunteer. Local organizations can also sign up to provide donations or volunteer service via hub portal.

Both approaches offer a grassroots response to needs-exchange that empowers and builds leadership at the ground level for Cleveland communities.

Changes to Unemployment in Response to COVID-19

Recent updates to Ohio unemployment benefits reflect a growing need amidst massive layoffs across Ohio due to mandated Covid-19 related closures.

Ohio Department of Jobs and Family Services has temporarily increased staff to process unemployment benefit applications and has issued a WARN processing number to expedite processing of applications related to the Coronavirus outbreak.

The wait time for applying for unemployment benefits over the phone is approximately 53 minutes at present. The wait time for applying for unemployment benefits online is approximately 13 minutes. The state is also waving the usual one-week waiting period to start receiving benefits after you apply. State officials have not said whether the Coronavirus outbreak will speed the process.

Unemployment benefits will be available for eligible individuals who are requested by a medical professional, local health authority, or employer to be isolated or quarantined as a result of Covid-19, even if they aren't actually diagnosed.

For the most current updates related to Ohio unemployment benefits and to apply, please visit: http://jfs.ohio.gov/ouio/CoronavirusAndUI.stm

Collinwood Friends Garden Hosts Free Distribution by Mail

by Brittainy Quinn

Well, there is no better time to plant your own victory garden than the present! Gardening is relaxing, rewarding and helps save on food costs. This season, the community garden has to make some changes and get creative about how we operate. Normally, we would hold a seed distribution day in April and a sprout distribution in June. In order to make this resource accessible at this time, we have created an online seed request. Please visit https://tinyurl.com/CollinwoodGarden and complete the form. We will do our best to accommodate your request based on availability and your order will be delivered. We expect to have carrots, lettuce, green beans, cucumber, and much more- the complete list will be available at the link above by April 11th.

The community garden is located at 257 East 156th street. We are excited to announce that with the city's support we are expanding and doubling the size of the community garden. You can sign up for a plot on the form if you are interested in a 4 x 8 garden bed. We are currently planning garden policies to ensure the health and safety of our gardeners- you can keep up to date at facebook.com/CollinwoodFriends-Garden. The Collinwood Friends Garden is one of 170 community gardens in Cuyahoga county that participate in the Summer Sprout program from the Ohio State University Extension. Summer Sprout gardens are eligible for soil testing, soil amendments, tilling services, plants, seeds, materials for raised beds (if eligible), technical assistance and education. For more information on the Summer Sprout program, call 330-559-7736 or visit the Ohio State University Extension website.

Five Points Intersection to Receive $50,000 Investment

by Carly Lovely

The Five Pointes intersection will receive a $50,000 investment in streetscaping, thanks to a grant awarded to Greater Collinwood Development Corporation from the Cuyahoga County Community Development Supplemental Grant program. The Five Pointes Streetscape Project will implement recommendations from the September 24, 2018 Saint Clair Avenue Corridor Study. The St. Clair Avenue Corridor Study identified beautification, bike and pedestrian friendly amenities, and healthy lifestyle amenities as key needs. To address these needs, the Five Pointes Streetscape Project will provide ladder style crosswalks, decorative place making banners, street trees, and bike racks.

Increased foot traffic, enhanced resident and visitor satisfaction, transportation equity by providing access to bike racks in an area previously having none, pedestrian safety, and an enhanced sense of place for the Five Pointes Intersection will benefit the Collinwood community as a result of this project. Five Pointes is a vibrant intersection, home to Collinwood High School, the Cleveland Public Library Collinwood Branch and the Five Pointes Retail District. We additionally thank Councilman Anthony Hairston for his thought leadership and support on this project. Greater Collinwood Development Corporation will keep the community informed and involved as this project progresses.

Charity Foundation Announces Bartender Emergency Assistance Grant Program

Wipes Clog Pipes

by Jennifer Elting

As packages of toilet paper are filling carts and Cleveland is left with empty shelves, many Americans are also stockpiling disposable wipes. The Northeast Ohio Regional Sewer District is reminding customers and others throughout Northeast Ohio that although the packaging might say "flushable," wipes should never be flushed down the toilet.

"Flushable wipes are not truly flushable," said Jim Bunsey, Chief Operating Officer. "They might go down the drain, but they do not break up like regular toilet paper."

In addition, paper towels, facial tissues and disinfecting wipes are also no-nos. Dispose of these items in the garbage can and save your drains.

Large wastewater treatment plants such as the three owned and operated by the Sewer District have a better ability to handle wipes and other debris, but they are screened out early in the treatment process. That's if they even make it to the treatment plant.

"Collectively, our three treatment plants treat more than 200 million gallons of wastewater every single day, but if wipes even make it to us, they are still trucked off to a landfill," said Bunsey.

Wipes like to bind with fats, oils and grease and can wreak havoc on smaller wastewater treatment facilities, clog local sewer systems and harm your home's plumbing.

USBG National Charity Foundation announced the Bartender Emergency Assistance Program early last week. The grant program aims to relieve economic hardship in the industry due to Covid-19 related business closures and enmass layoffs.

In order to qualify for grant assistance, the applicant must satisfy all of the following requirements:

1. Be a bartender or the spouse of a bartender or a child of a bartender. BEAP defines "bartender" as an individual employed in serving beverages or otherwise engaged in the production, promotion, or distribution of alcoholic beverages. An individual is considered "employed" as a bartender if the individual performed bartending services on a regular full-time or part-time basis, for not less than one year prior to the application, and if the catastrophic event or emergency hardship giving rise to the application prevents the individual from performing such services. 2. Experience a catastrophic event or emergency hardship that is:

-Identifiable and describable in detail in the application;

-Damaging to the person or property; -Sudden and precipitous rather than gradual or progressive;

-Unexpected, unanticipated, unforeseen, unintended, or unplanned; and

- Unusual and not normally occurring in the ordinary course of day-to-day living.

3. Lack the necessities of life, including financial, physical, mental, or emotional wellbeing as a result of the catastrophic event or emergency hardship.

4. Provide tangible documentation of the catastrophic event or emergency handship.

For more information about the Bartender Emergency Assistance Program and how to apply, please visit https://www. usbgfoundation.org/beap

Big Clean Postponed: Social Distancing Clean-ups Encouraged

by Allison Lukacsy-Love

To prevent the spread of coronavirus (CO-VID-19), the Big Clean originally scheduled for Saturday, April 25th will be postponed.

We are following directives from Ohio Governor Mike DeWine, the Ohio Department of Public Health and the CDC. We are working to identify a new date in the Fall for this popular annual event, so please stay tuned! In the meantime, there are actions you can take as an individual to remain a good steward of our environment.

Next time you walk the dog or venture to a local park for some fresh air, grab a trash bag and gloves and pick up any litter along the way. Be vigilant in washing your hands before and after!

Cleveland's Influenza Pandemic of 1918

"Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." - George Santayana, 1905

by William McCulloch

Though there have pandemics in recent past, most have had little effect in the United States. The last one to have had a major impact as far as Cleveland is concerned was the influenza of 1918-1919, also known as the Spanish Flu, carried back from Europe by the Doughboy's of World War I.

The nations fighting feared the effect on morale and censured any reporting of the disease. The year prior the Russian people revolted against their government, greatly due to the hardships brought on by the war forcing the Tsar to abdicate and form a new government and sign a separate peace. Since Spain was neutral during the war, reporters were allowed to cover the disease's impact there.

Here's are a few references I found. - American troop deaths from combat: 53,402. American troop deaths from influenza: 45,000. In Cleveland between late September and the end of 1918, 23,644 fell ill from the disease, with 1,600 developing pneumonia.
In Cleveland 3,600 died of influenza or pneumonia that autumn.

- An additional 800 deaths occurred in January and February of 1919.

- Over those five months, 3.5% of the city's population (26,236) came down with the influenza or pneumonia, and of those 16% passed away (1 in 6).

- The result in Cleveland was a total excess death rate of 474 per 100,000. The highest rate in Ohio, and worse than either New York City or Chicago.

- Cleveland's population in 1910 was 560,663. By 1920 it was 796,841, fifth largest city in the United States.

- With a population of roughly 749,605 in 1918, total Cleveland deaths over the five month period was around 4,400 people or 0.6%.

- Today Cleveland's population is roughly 383,793. So 0.6% of the current population would represent 2,303 people.

- In the United States an estimate 25 million fell ill and close to 600,000 died.

- It's been said one fifth to a quarter of the world was infected and numbers between 17.4 and 50 million died.

- By comparison World War I claimed a total 20 million lives.

- World population in 1918 was around 1.8 billion. Today population is close to 8 billion.

RTA & Ohio's Stay-at-Home Order

Governor Mike DeWine issued a Stay-A-Home order, Sunday March 22, 2020. The order, that all persons stay at home unless engaged in essential work or activity, is in effect March 23 at, 11:59pm through April 6, 11:59pm. Here's what you need to know about how the Stay-At-Home effects public transportation:

Only essential travel and essential activities are permitted. Essential travel and activities are defined as: for health and safety; for necessary supplies and services; for outdoor activities (provided individuals comply with Social Distancing Requirements); to perform work providing essential products and services at Essential Businesses or Operations; and to care for family member, friend or pet in another household and to transport family members, friends or pets as allowed by the order

People riding on public transit must comply with Social Distancing Requirements to the greatest extent feasible.

The order allows travel into or out of the State to maintain Essential Businesses and Operations and Minimum Basic Operations.

Social Distancing Requirements includes maintaining at least six-foot social distancing from other individuals, washing hands with soap and water for at least twenty seconds as frequently as possible or using hand sanitizer, covering coughs and sneezes (into the sleeve or elbow, not hands), regularly cleaning high-touch surfaces, and not shaking hands. RTA has taken the following measures to reduce the transmission of Covid-19:

- Enhanced cleaning protocol for all buses, trains, paratransit and non-revenue vehicles that began March 5th.

- RTA staff are cleaning all touchable surfaces on board its vehicles with cleaning agent recommended by the Center of Disease Control every 24 hours. This includes non-revenue and Transit Police vehicles, all Transit Centers and all RTA public facilities, bus districts and office buildings.

- Bus and rail operators and other staff have been provided with disinfectant wipes to clean their work areas routinely throughout the day.

- Effective March 24: RTA is suspending Park-N-Ride and Downtown Trolley bus service due to the Governor's Stay-At-Home order for Ohioans.

Fr. Joe's Weekly Video Nurtures the Spirit

by Bev Caldwell

Our Lady of the Lake, like other parishes in Ohio, heeded the order of the Ohio Bishops in response to the Corona Virus to cancel all Masses and prayer gatherings to align with the Governor's directive. However, Fr. Joe found a way to reach the faithful via a weekly video to nurture the spirit.

"With Fr. Joe at the Table of the Word" is a weekly video that includes a reading of the upcoming Sunday gospel, a homiletic commentary, prayers of the faithful and any pertinent announcements. Slated for a weekly 4pm Saturday time slot on the parish website, olleuclid.org, the new video is distributed through several media platforms with links to the site that are easily accessible.

In his first video, Fr. Joe talked about the table where the word is read and reflected upon. "This table belongs to my family and was given to me to use here in the rectory dining room." Next to him sat his family portrait and he shared that his family had many a happy gathering at that table, including his late father. He spoke about the fact that since the table has been in the rectory, staff and parishioners alike have gathered around that table for many fun and meaningful meetings. So he thought it was appropriate to reach out to his "family", his parishioners, from that family table.

New Ways to Connect During Stay at Home Directive

These resources are intended to support and nourish you and your family during these challenging times. Please go to olleuclid.org and look for links to the videos and bulletin.

Weekly Video - With Fr. Joe at the Table of the Word - Each Saturday at 4pm but can be viewed anytime during the week. Videos scheduled to celebrate Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Sunday.

Daily Video - Stations of the Cross at Our Lady of Lourdes Shrine -Each Weekday at 3pm but can be viewed anytime. The first video aired on Saturday, March 21st and celebrated the Fourth Sunday of Lent with a focus on the gospel of the blind man who encounters Je<sup>s</sup>sus. "Do you believe in the Son of Man?" The second video aired on Saturday, March 28th and celebrated the Fifth Sunday of Lent and the raising of Lazarus from the dead. "Did I not tell you that if you believe you will see the glory of God?" Fr. Joe provided inciteful homiletic responses to both gospels with compassionate subtle references to the current situation during this time of isolation.

Response to the videos has been inspiring. With times so bleak, people just needed a spiritual pick me up and the videos provide just that.

"We watched your video (at the table) this Sunday morning. We really enjoyed it and found it very comforting. We miss our church community but this really helps."

"Hi Fr. Joe, Just wanted to say that you will never know how much it meant to me to hear and see your homily today! Not going to get" mushy" but it made me feel much more at ease. Thanks for the GOOD NEWS!! Oh and tell Melissa it was great to hear her voice too!"

"Thank you for your insight and interpretation of today's gospel. In its own way the virus is helping people communicate more often. My brothers and I have a daily texting now... The world is smaller than we think. As someone I know said 'the virus is like gods way of telling us to stop fighting like children, go to our rooms and work for a common cause in unity.' Enjoy the sunshine today."

"I just wanted to thank you for the video gospel and homily. It is very helpful to see you and hear your thoughts in these troubling times. I find your hopefulness and honesty refreshing."

"This was wonderful! Looking forward to this each week - stay well"

"Thank you..... It's good to be home"

"Thank you Father Joe for uniting us in scripture and prayer. We really need this right now"

"Thoughtful and encouraging. Thanks Fr. Joe!"

"Grateful, he is a wonderful human being"

"Thank you! I love this idea — it helps fill the gap in my weekend created by not being able to go to Mass. This is a great idea for "meeting the needs of parishioners who cannot attend mass. Hope it can continue Thank you Father Joe. Peace and health be with you."

"Thanks for all you have done to make this happen. It was quite a true support and blessing! Thank you, for those of us (like me) who do not have a Facebook account."

"Thank you so much for the gospel and stations of the cross videos. These are very much appreciated at this time."

"Thanks for putting these videos on the website. They are very uplifting and prayerful for me. Hope you are all well. God bless, Thanks for sharing.. Thank you so much. Thank you for this. I am grateful to receive this."

Blessed Palms - We are currently investigating ways to get blessed palms to folks while being respectful of social distancing and the Governor's directives. We will keep you posted.

Prayers - Fr. Joe and staff are praying for the parish and school families and community. Although our parish office is temporarily closed, we continue to check our messages. God Bless Everyone! The two thoughtful administrators, decided to make a video tour of the Stations of the Cross by walking the stations at Our Lady of Lourdes Shrine in Euclid with a camera to video tape the stations for those students and adults who cannot get there themselves. When the order came to stay at home, the video took on a new significance.

"I guess the idea came from the fact that we are a Catholic school and during Lent, we focus on the Stations of the Cross. We knew there had to be a way to still share this experience with our students, so we Bird and the OLL Music Ministries, the video takes the viewer each weekday on a virtual tour of the next station of the cross reflection (14 stations plus 2 extra videos) up to Good Friday, ending with the image of the Resurrection Statue, as we look collectively toward the celebration of Easter. OLL's talented video editor, Nicole Hufford ties all the elements together, resulting in a Station of the Cross video released each weekday at 3pm. Nicole is also the video editor working behind the scenes of Fr. Joe's weekly videos.

To All Our Parishioners and Friends

Dear Friends,

Decisions made this past week concerning the COVID-19 Virus have affected all of us personally and as a church. So we feel it important to tell you how this affects St. Jerome Parish.

First of all it's good to report that Fr. Bill Jerse is doing much better now and will be moved soon to a rehab facility. We will keep you informed about his progress, so keep the prayers going!

St. Jerome School is closed for the next three weeks and all school activities have been cancelled. The school office number is 216-486-3587 and the website is stjeromecleveland.org/school/

The Bishops of Ohio have dispensed Catholics from the obligation to participate in Mass on Sundays and have suspended all publicly celebrated liturgies at least through Easter Sunday, April 12, 2020.

Sunday remains a Holy Day and we are encouraged to pray privately in our homes using the Word Among Us, The Little Black Book, the Rosary,

Divine Mercy Chaplet and Stations of the Cross. On Sundays, Mass can be viewed on Fox 8 at 11:30 am, on EWTN at 8 am or Cox 45 at 11:30 am. Several parishes are livestreaming Mass on their websites or Facebook.

St. Jerome church building will be closed for the immediate future. The Rectory office will be open only on Monday and Thursday mornings from 9-12. We will check phone messages and email at jeromeclev@ dioceseofcleveland.org. We will make updates available on our webpage at www.stjeromecleveland.org.

Regarding the sacraments:

Funerals will be celebrated with the Rite of Committal at the cemetery with only immediate family members attending. A Memorial Mass will then be scheduled after the crisis has passed.

Anointing of the Sick & Confessions will be celebrated only if the person is in danger of death.

Baptisms will be postponed indefinitely unless a child is seriously ill.

Weddings should be rescheduled, if at all possible, after the crisis has passed.

First Communion is postponed and religious education classes are suspended.

Communion calls to homes are suspended. Eucharistic Ministers are not permitted to bring communion to the sick or to hospital patients.

If you have questions about the sacraments, please call the Rectory at 216-481-8200.

Our parish priests will offer private Masses for the intentions listed in the parish bulletin. Let us pray for those who have the virus, their families, and those who have died.

Finally, Catholics have always joined together in prayer during times of crisis throughout the ages. We have ministered to the sick, attended to the dying and buried the dead. May this unprecedented time in our history be a time we remember who we are, disciples of Jesus Christ, crucified and risen.

May we continue to demonstrate the love of God and our neighbor. In addition, may we remember to pray for everyone involved as we weather the storm.

As Pope Francis reminds us, we should be reaching out to our communities and praying in solidarity with the Church around the world. He offered this prayer to Mary, mother of Jesus: O Mary, you always shine on our path as a sign of salvation and hope.

We entrust ourselves to you, Health of the Sick, who at the cross took part in Jesus' pain, keeping your faith firm. You, Salvation of the People, know what we need and we are sure you will provide so that, as in Cana of Galilee, we may return to joy and to feasting after this time of trial.

Help us, Mother of Divine Love, to conform to the will of the Father, and to do as we are told by Jesus, who has taken upon himself our sufferings and carried our sorrows to lead us, through the cross, to the joy of the resurrection. Amen.

May the Lord bless and guide us in these difficult times.

The Link Between Your Child's Teacher and a Tutor

by Phillip Dank

Three people play integral roles in your child's education: teachers, tutors, and you.

As the parent, you are the most important player. Many students at St. Jerome School are being tutored because the help which tutors provide support the academic content which is being taught in a classroom.

This support can sometimes enlighten a student's understanding. Tutors provide this attention, helping students accomplish their academic goals, based upon the grade level's expectations. Planning is based on the curriculum that will be covered over the whole year.

This is an important component between the classroom teacher and the tutor.

tackle other academic goals. Occasionally revising the goals if necessary. Revision of a goal is a stepping stone which allows the tutor to assist students who are now moving closer to mastering the specific academic skills. At this point the students are showing the classroom teacher how much they have gained by working with a tutor.

Approaches in student's work habits vary. By working with an in-school tutoring program the tutors get some insight on how each child learns. Classroom teacher are also gaining this insight as they work with students.

Once a tutor receives insight on how each child learns, the lessons are modified to meet

SJN Kids Love Theater!

by David Peck

St. John Nottingham's Kindergarten through Third grade classes had the opportunity to invite "Kids Love Musicals!" to visit us recently. Kids Love Musicals is a theatrical group that supports the State of Ohio K-5 curriculum standards in Language Arts, Music, Drama, Dance and Physical Education. This is a hands-on 2 day classroom residency program that brings American Musicals into the classroom. Our students have experienced "Your a Good Man Charlie Brown", "Cinderella," "Jungle Book", "The Wizard of Oz" and this year "Jungle Book". This was a hands on classroom experience that my 3rd graders thoroughly enjoyed. Kids Love Musicals brought the theatrical material, music, costumes to make this experience complete. Observing my students work together enjoying music, simple dance steps, dressing up along with learning about musical history was a complete success. My students enjoyed this experience and asked for a continued experience which led the teachers to proceed to Playhouse Square to enjoy Eric Carl's " The Very Hungry Caterpillar".

Students Lend a Helping Hand

by David Peck

The ancient Greek, Dionysius of Syracuse, once recounted of how plain and unseasoned the food of the Spartans was compared to the food found in other of the Greek city-states. He would go on to explain that the Spartans required no seasoning for their food, often pain broth and porridge, because they would work so hard during the day and always push themselves to the limit with "hardhunting, labor, sprinting, and sweating" that they would build up such a hunger and thirst, so any food would taste like a banquet. Unlike the ancient Spartans, we don't push our students to hunger and thirst however, we do encourage a strong sense or responsibility and work-ethic.

"Hard work can be a virtue unto itself" stated Mr. Alec Lawlor, SJN's History and Humanities teacher and the organizer of the weekend service project. "We want our students to learn that problem solving, and 'stick-to-itiveness' are helpful skills in coping with and overcoming each challenge they may face in life." Working hard to achieve something feels good and I'm proud to help others" mused Bishop Elie – 6th Grade Student, when asked how felt about giving up a day off.

"Selfless actions, like this, show that their hearts are truly in the spirit of what we do at SJN." observed Kaitlin Streb, SJN's Science and Art instructor. "Our students could be doing a billion other things at home and yet they came here to help their teachers. That speaks volumes about their character and who they want to be."

The volunteers were rewarded for their hard work with pizza and some fun play time in the gym with Gershwin, SJN's unofficial School Dog. (There was even word of one teacher handing out Homework passes to the volunteers. "Not that the volunteers need them. Because they don't" the Anonymous teacher was reported in saying.

When asked what lessons can be learned by moving boxes around, Mr. Lawlor commented, "Vocation is central to what I was taught while being broughtup in a Lutheran School." He went on to explain, "It's [vocation] the idea that we, as Christians, best serve God by serving our neighbor. By serving the world."

Martin Luther's Doctrine of Vocation, to love and serve our neighbors, has been central to Luther teachings for the past 500 years. It is central to what we teach and instill in our students at SJN. The concept of vocation or service is important in teaching skills that help students, not only learn, but to resist narcissism and selfishness. Vocation is also important in teaching students empathy and kindness. Or, as Theologian Uwe Siemon-Netto put it, "The doctrine of vocation endeavors to turn the human mind away from the self and toward the neighbor."

would be rewarded with a candy bar.

Challenge accepted! Never far from her small stack of well-worn flash cards, Aniya began studying back in September. Brooklynn, pictured in the middle, appears without a candy bar, "I gave up candy for Lent." she reminded Mr. Lawlor. Brooklynn was quite pleased with the peanut butter filled pretzels she received in lieu of sweets.

"Once you get presidents one through thirty, it becomes easy." Stated the ever modest Jay'veon Levitt. Jay'veon, not only listed all 45 presidents in perfect order but, was also able to answer a series of bonus questions including, "Name all Eight Presidents from Ohio." and, "Who was the first president to live in the White House?" No, it isn't George Washington. How about it, do you know? Are you smarter than a 5th Grader?

Playwrights Local Announces King of Cage Street: April 24

Playwrights Local announces "The King of Cage Street," a new urban drama written and directed by award-winning Cleveland playwright Michael Oatman. This regional premiere runs April 24 through May 9 at the Creative Space at Waterloo Arts in Cleveland. The production is presented by Playwrights Local, Northeast Ohio's only theater devoted to locally written works. A full description can be found at www.playwrightslocal.org/kingofcagestreet.

The new drama "The King of Cage Street" by Michael Oatman is, in a sense, a love story: a character study of three broken people against a backdrop of urban decay. These three dispirited souls - D-Bear, a reformed thug; Skully, an alcoholic handy man; and Dime, a transgendered sex worker - have created a space for themselves and their makeshift family. They have survived in the worst part of the worst ghetto in Ohio, thriving in what D-Bear calls "the end of the world." This is where we find the trio when D-Bear receives news that a vicious enemy from his past has been released and is returning soon. As this showdown plays out, the fragile bonds that # accessing businesses' needs towards resiBurnt Toast Makes You Pretty

by Mary McElrath

Wonder Bread was the only 'store bought' bread in our house. It was primarily for my dad's lunches at the steel foundry. My sister and I sometimes made toast with this bread. There were times that we would unintentionaly leave the toast under the broiler too long. We would unsuccessfully try to scrape all the burn off as best that we could. We knew that it was our fault but we would ask for additional slices. Only the very burned slices were thrown away.

Our mom would monitor the remaining slices needed for our dad's lunches. Sometimes she would say "yes" and sometimes she would say "no'. When the answer was "no" we would hear: "A little burn won't hurt you! Anyway, burnt toast will make you pretty."

We figured, well she is our mother. She must know what she is talking about. So we would eat our scraped toast and kept on moving.

Over the years I considered this childhood memory - a life lesson. When your life toast gets burned and it is your fault, scrape off as much burn as you can. Then keep on moving.

Just remember what my mom would say: Burnt Toast Makes You Pretty!

Playwright and director Michael Oatman is the former Playwright in Residence at Karamu House, the oldest African American theater in the country. He is only the second person to hold this honor, with the first being Langston Hughes. He currently serves as a Stage and Screen mentor at University of Nebraska at Omaha and as an instructor at Kent State University. In 2011, he won the CPAC Workforce Fellowship; in 2010, he received the Cleveland Arts Prize for Best Emerging Artist and the Lantern Award for Best Play. In 2010, seven of his plays were produced: Black Nativity, War paint, Eclipse: The War Between Pac and B.I.G., Course of Action, My Africa, A Solitary Voice, Not a Uterus in Sight, and Hitler and Gandhi. He earned an English Degree from Cleveland State University in 2004 and completed his MFA in theater

A Spiritual Journey to Awakening

Annette Tabar

Greetings in this time of AWAKENING!

YES. We are being called upon to identify our priorities. In the quiet of your mind, reflect upon what is vital and what isn't. We are guided to avoid large groups, wash our hands frequently and get plenty of rest. Eating healthy is a given. Keeping active, mentally and physically can be a challenge when routines are interrupted and time seems plentiful, almost too plentiful some would say.

Examine all thoughts, feelings and actions. Are you staying positive and proactive using this opportunity to start or finish projects you have ignored. Have you stayed in touch with friends and loved ones via a phone call, email or by writing a caring note? Are you awakening to a habitual thought on lack or limitation? You can change today. The choice is yours to make. Life gives us a banquet if we stay positive and thankful for what we are given.

Using your God given creative energy, awaken a revitalized Spirit to become mindfully conscious of all that you are. Attract joy by being joyful. Attract peace by radiating inner calm and trust that all is well. Attract perfect health by harmonizing mind, body and Spirit to become fully conscious of all that you are. Move through thoughts of survival to embracing a new beginning...with inneir strength shining outward...creating the life you deserve.

Newly Passed FFCRA Bill Seeks to Address Growing Unemployment

by Greater Collinwood Developnent Corporation Staff

The newly-passed Families First Coronavirus Response Act seeks to address growing needs due to Covid-19 pandemic closures and mass layoffs.

FFCRA was signed by President Trump Wednesday March 18 and provides paid leave benefits and additional unemployment benefits for U.S. workers. The bill covers all companies with up to 500 employees, and individuals who are self-employed may see some benefits.

The following are six qualifications for coverage under the new bill:

1. The employee is subject to federal, state or local quarantine or isolation order due to Covid-19.

2. The employee has been advised by a healthcare provider to self-quarantine due to concerns related to Covid-19.

3. The employee is experiencing symptoms of Covid-19 and seeking medical diagnosis.

4. The employee is caring for an individual who is subject to a federal, state or local order, or the individual has been advised to self-quarantine due to concerns related to Covid-19.

5. The employee is caring for the employee's son or daughter, if the child's school or childcare facility has been closed or the child's care provider is unavailable due to Covid-19 precautions.

6. The employee is experiencing any other substantially similar condition specified by the Health and Human Services in consultation with the Department of the Treasury or the Department of Labor. Employees can expect the following benefits:

Normal FMLA is unpaid, but under the FFCRA, employees who are on sick leave because they are sick can receive their full pay, up to $511 per day.

Leave taken to care for children whose schools or daycare facilities have closed is paid at two-thirds the employee's regular rate of pay, with a maximum of $200 per day.

Employers cannot force you to use vacation or sick time before receiving this benefit.

There is a 10-day waiting period before this benefit applies. Employees can use existing sick or vacation time to cover these days.

Employers can expect the following benefits:

Employers will receive tax credits for 100% of what they pay out to employees, within noted limitations.

For healthcare providers such as hospitals and nursing homes, and for employers with 50 or fewer employees, the Secretary of Labor can exempt the business from these requirements.

Employers with fewer than 25 employees do not have to restore employees to their previous positions.

The bill will go into effect in 15 days. For more information about the Families First Coronavirus Response Act, please visit: https://www.congress.gov/bill/116thcongress/house-bill/6201

Spring into Ohio's First Native Plant Month

by Kelly Parker

Along with a state bird, flower, tree, fruit, Ohio now has its first native plant month! What's even better, is that it is here. That's right, April has now been officially designated as Ohio Native Plant Month.

On June 27, 2019 Governor Mike DeWine signed Ohio House Bill 59 into law, which designates April as "Ohio Native Plant Month." This is due in large part to efforts made by Former First Lady of Ohio, Hope Taft and Horticulturist, Nancy Linz. This law has been enacted to increase the awareness of Ohio's native plants and the benefits they provide to our health, wildlife, environment, and economy. Plants, even small ones, have large impacts regarding stormwater, pollination of plants and crops, honey, carbon uptake, oxygen output, pollution reduction, food and shelter for wildlife, landscaping/aesthetics, and soil health. Ohio is one of the first states in the country to dedicate an entire month to its native plants.

On March 31st look for our announcement on Ohio Native Plant Month and the importance of these plants. Then starting on April 1st Cuyahoga Soil & Water Conservation District's (SWCD) facebook page and other members of the Lake Erie Allegheny Partnership (LEAP) will promote a different native plant each day.

Each post will feature photos and a LEAP fact sheet for that specific plant.

If you would like to help celebrate Ohio Native Plant month by creating habitat in your own yard, April is the perfect time to do this and Cuyahoga SWCD is here to help you out. You can purchase native plant seed kits for all types of environments on our website. We've got it all from sunny to shady areas, dry to wet soil, etc. and you can order themall year long, not just in April.

You don't have to have a yard to have native plants either. Check out some native plant sales or nurseries and try potting them on your porch, balcony, or deck.

Happy 1st Ohio Native Plant Month.

Individual Acts of Conservation

by Jared Bartley

We may be keeping away from each other, but TOGETHER we can still make a difference for our local soil, water, wildlife and neighborhoods.

Individually, you can pick up litter in your neighborhood or nearby stream. But TOGETHER, we can stop plastic pollution in Lake Erie.

Individually, you can plant native plants and shrink your lawn. But TOGETHER, we can give pollinators a place to thrive.

Individually, you can install a rain garden or rain barrel. But TOGETHER, we can eliminate stormwater pollution in our rivers and streams.

Individually, you can plant a tree. But TOGETHER we can make Cleveland and Cuyahoga County the Forest City once more. Even though we are living apart for a little while, T O G E T H E R through our Individual Acts of Conservation we can change the world. Join us and let us know about your Individual Act of Conservation. Our form is available online at https://www.cuyahogaswcd.org/programs/individual-acts-ofconservation

Please fill out our form to tell us about your Individual Act of Conservation. We'll share it so that we can all see how we are changing Cuyahoga County and the world for the better - TOGETHER.

Operation Project Learn

by Robert Williams

Operation Project Learn (OPL) is a nonprofit community-based organization that teaches adults and older out-of-school youths basic reading and writing skills. OPL works with the lowest level reader on a one-on-one basis or in a small group classroom setting. In this environment the students will receive the individual attention needed to be successful first in this setting and then moved on to a GED setting when ready. In order to be successful in any GED program, one must have a strong reading experience level of at least a 9th grade. OPL is not about reinventing the literacy wheel. But to help better the one that already exists. We do this with a volunteer staff and board that have committed themselves to provide the best possible service we can.

We can continue to do this good work with your help.

Here's how: 1). Complete a one day, 5 hour Voluntee Tutor Training Workshop. No formal teaching experience needed. 2) Commit to five (5) voluntee hours per week. 3) Plan o meeting your student (s) twice a week in a library convenien to both of you. 4) The tutoring sessions are 1.5 hours each, for a total of 3 hours. The two remaining hours are spent in travel time and preparation, for a total of 5 hours per week.

If this doesn't work for you, here's a helpful alternative: aonetray donation will be well appropriated, to help with this cause. Contact: Barbara P. Watson, email operationprojectlearn@Yahoo.com Phone: 216-303-5698

Let Those Bugs Sleep

by Kelly Butauski

Everyone is waiting for good weather to get out and work in the yard. We look longingly out the window only to see rotting leaves, debris, and dead plant stems. It may look unsightly to us but there are hundreds of insects in those leaves and stems. Our yards are their cozy winter beds and nurseries. Unlike us, they cannot come out yet. They have not matured. Most can only start coming out when the weather warms to a consistent 50 degrees. That will not happen until about mid-April. But, why should we care? After all not many people really like bugs. They are annoying, they get into our houses, they eat our plants, and they may even bite us. In reality, insects are critical to the environment, and the environment is critical to us.

Why are insects important? What do bugs do anyway? They do lots of wonderful, important tasks.

They pollinate: Most of us know that pollinators are important for the growth of flowers, vegetables and fruits. We need them for our food supply. Pollinators are more than the bees we see in yards or in large hives. They can be bees, butterflies, ants, moths, beetles, birds and even bats.

They are scavengers: Think of them as ground composters. They are removing dead plant and animal material from the environment preventing a serious mess.

They are food: Insects are a critical food source for birds, frogs, turtles and reptiles. Think spring when birds are searching for bugs in the debris to feed their babies. Some kill bad bugs: Beneficial insects are critical to growers to fight the bugs that eat crops.

They move seeds: Many plants depend on insects to scatter their seeds so they can disperse and grow.

Without insects, the balance of nature would collapse. Biologists and others are concerned because their numbers are dropping worldwide due to habitat loss.

We can help our insect friends by creating a healthy habitat in our yards. Allow a small patch of "weedy" plants to grow for them to rest and feed. Beneficial insects love herbs that have gone to flower. Grow pollinator friendly native plants in every season. Maintain a brush pile for them to hide and lay eggs. Leave a few areas of bare soil for ground bees to make their homes underground. Put out a shallow dish of water. Let some leaves remain on the ground in the fall along with uncut plant stems for native bee nurseries. Wait until warm weather to clean up. Let some leaves stay in the beds.

In a well-balanced yard, the bugs work out problems among themselves so you will not have to intervene very often. No pesticides needed. Spiders and lightening bugs catch mosquitoes, pollinators help make flowers, pill bugs and wasps eat dead debris. Ladybugs, predatory beetles, and other beneficials kill harmful insects in the vegetable garden. These tiny, mighty creatures need our protection. That means preserving their habitats all year. So let them sleep for now.

Ohio Attorney General Releases 2020 Sunshine Law Manual

by Alisa Boles

Ohio's Open Meetings and Public Records Acts are collectively known as "Sunshine Laws". The purpose of these laws is to prevent citizens from being kept in the dark about government operations.

Unless an exception applies, any member of the public has a right to be present at a meeting of a public body where public business is being discussed and to have access to records kept by government entities.

An extensive guide to Ohio's Sunshine laws is published with annual updates by the Ohio Attorney General's office (OAG). The guide is nicknamed, the "Yellow Book" and can be accessed online. A paper copy can be requested, limited to one (1) copy per requester. Several informational videos are available in response to frequently asked questions.

Free training sessions are offered by the OAG at various statewide locations throughout the year. Free Online Sunshine Laws Training is also available and has been approved for 3.0 general self-study activity hours of Ohio Attorney Continuing Legal Education.

OAG Sunshine Law training is open to public officials, as well as any individual interested in open government.

In White v. Clinton County Board of Commissioners, 76 Ohio St.3d 416 (1996), the Ohio Supreme Court described the historical significance of government transparency to the founders of the United States and the State of Ohio:

"One of the strengths of American government is the right of the public to know and understand the actions of their elected representatives. This includes not merely the right to know a government body's final decision on a matter, but the ways and means by which those decisions were reached. There is great historical significance to this basic foundation of popular government, and our founding fathers keenly understood this principle.

James Madison clearly laid out this strength of our government when he said that:

'A popular Government, without popular information, or the means of acquiring it, is but a Prologue to a Farce or a Tragedy; or, perhaps, both. Knowledge will forever govern ignorance; And a people who

A Call to All 40:2

by Lillian J. Anderson

mean to be their own Governors, must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives.' The Complete Madison, His Basic Writings (1988) 337 (Letter to W.T. Barry, August 4, 1822).

Thomas Jefferson further expounded on this principle: 'The way to prevent [errors of] the people, is to go give them full information of their affairs throu' the channel of the public papers, and to contrive that those papers should penetrate the whole mass of the people. The basis of our governments being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right * * *.' 11 The Papers of Thomas Jefferson (1955) 49 (Letter to Col. Edward Carrington, January 16, 1787).

Ohio's own history is replete with rich examples of detailed records dating back to the 1800s. Amicus League of Women Voters of Ohio cites many rich examples of the long and illustrious record-keeping of our forebears. In fact, when the Ohio legislature created the first boards of county commissioners, it included in that creation a requirement that accurate records be kept by the county commissioners. See 2 Ohio Laws 150. In 1804, in "An act establishing boards of commissioners," the Ohio legislature required:

'Sec. 9. * * * That the commissioners shall have a just and accurate record kept of all their corporate proceedings, and for that purpose they are hereby empowered to appoint a clerk * * *.' Id. at 153. ... '"

Sunshine Week, an initiative of the American Society of News Editors, is celebrated nationwide every March.

A Mighty Fortress is Our God

by Rev. Ron Rollins

As the plague of COVID-19 circulates and man does all he can to slow, stop and develop a 'cure', where does our help come from? The Psalmist says: "My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth." and also, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." We can know that whatever trials may come our way, God is with us!

In the mid-1330's, the bubonic plague took the lives of over 25 million people, 1/3 of Europe's population! In 1527 it resurfaced as it made its way to Wittenburg, Germany - home of Martin Luther. In a letter regarding how people should respond to this epidemic, Luther also addressed what he believed the source of all plagues and pestilence to be: "I am of the opinion that all the epidemics, like any plague, are spread among the people by evil spirits who poison the air or exhale a pestilential breath which puts a deadly poison into the flesh. He is such a bitter, knavish devil that he not only unceasingly tries to slay and kill, but also takes delight in making us deathly afraid, worried, and apprehensive so that we should regard dying as horrible.. and have no rest or peace all through our life. And so the devil would excrete us out of this life as he tries to make us despair of God become unwilling and unprepared to die and, under the stormy and dark sky of fear and anxiety make us forget and lose Christ our light and life. If it be God's will that evil come upon us and destroy us none of our precautions will help us."

cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places." (Ephesians 6:12) As President Trump keeps saying: we are in a war. How true! Living through the Plague and meditating on Psalm 46 Luther wrote the hymn A Mighty Fortress Is Our God sometime between 1527-1529. If you are not familiar with the hymn, check out this wonderful version on Youtube: A Mighty Fortress Is Our God (Virtual Choir #4)

Luther was led to believe, as millions believe, as we need to believe, that even though we sinners cannot fix things God can and He will.. in His time.. in His way.. according to His will! Let us confess our unbelief, seek the Holy Spirit's help to repent, and trust in God for all things.. and the peace of God which surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus, our Lord. God bless you! Be safe and... kepp washing those hands!

As St. Paul writes: "For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the If you are concerned or anxious or just need someone to talk to about all of this craziness, give us a call or drop us an email, We wold love to speak with you!

Are these uncertain times? No. We knew these days would come.

Now is an Old Day but a New Day.

A situation that has actually been before. What's new? The people.

Yes, there is fear, but be brave. Be bold and courageous. Your purpose is to rise above your circumstances by going back, back to the wisdom from a book centuries old: the Holy Bible.

Is it outdated? No. Has it been forsaken? Yes. We must go back to the Old Landmark. Think back...recall the memories of the stories told to you by your parents, grandparents and great-grandparents. Seize the moments and times spent together learning, loving, living these treasures. Keep them in your heart and in your mind.

Be strong when the battleground for your mind is in combat mode! Find a solid immovable rock to stand on when the floods come and the storms rage. Cleave to it! Jesus Is.

My Rock. Never Forget.... He lifted me out of the slimy pit, out of the mud and mire; He set my feet on a rock and gave me a firm place to stand.

An Update From Cheryl L. Stephens County Council

by Cheryl L. Stephens Cuyahoga County Councilwoman (D-10)

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

The Coronavirus COVID-19, has created a variety of serious and stressful issues for individuals and their families. During this difficult time, I want every resident to know that I am advocating for you. In the past few weeks, I have communicated and worked with organizations, residents, and fellow community leaders on new ways to provide as much support as possible under the current circumstances.

Thank you to all of the community volunteers who have stepped up to ensure that our youngest and oldest residents are safe in their homes — whether it's picking up groceries for a neighbor, volunteering to deliver meals, donating personal protective equipment, sending cards to nursing facilities or making calls to check in with your friends. I am proud to call Northeast Ohio home.

One of the most significant concerns for everyone is food. Do we have enough now and will we have enough in the future? The answer is yes, we have enough, now let me share where to get food if your budget is tight.

Last week, I had the honor to volunteer during the Greater Cleveland Food Bank's first drive-up food distribution, and I was humbled by the collaboration that took place during this large-scale emergency effort. During the daytime any child in Cleveland can receive meals at Cleveland Metropolitan school locations and a shuttle service is available for those who need it. Visit https://www.clevelandmetroschools.org/coronavirus for a complete list of locations and shuttle information.

Tiffany Scruggs, Director of Benefits and Client Services at the Greater Cleveland Food Bank, says food availability and pick-up locations will vary week-to-week, though they are trying to do large scale effort each week. The best way to learn where food assistance is available near you is to call the food bank hotline at 216-738-2067 for the most current information.

Please don't hesitate to contact me for assistance or questions. You can email me at clstephens@cuyahogacounty.us or call (216) 698-2010. We will get through this "Virus Crisis" together. Stay healthy, Cheryl Stephens State Rep.

Judicial service is not merely a title or political job. It is a serious, lifelong commitment to fairness and integrity. Throughout my over 30-year legal career, I have established a reputation for honesty, dedication, and accomplishment. It is my goal to serve as a compassionate and honorable Judge.

Over 30 years of legal experience.

Federal Judicial Law Clerk, Attorney, Author, Teacher, Hearing Officer, Community Volunteer, and Local and National Bar Leader.

A good judge is more than just a name.
